

DUBLIN FACES ARMY RULE

GIRL FIRST TO INVADE EX-KAISER'S SECLUSION AND GET AN INTERVIEW

"Beautiful Dream Too Soon Finished," He Says; "So Gefallen! So Gefallen!"

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—The ex-kaiser has been interviewed. He did not have much to say beyond declaring that his past had been a beautiful dream too soon finished, but the story of how a girl of 24 accomplished the task that has for two years baffled skilled journalists of many climes is worth telling. William is strictly forbidden by the regulations of the Dutch government to give any interview or allow himself to be photographed.

Two weeks ago, when reports were flying about Europe of plans of the emperor for a German royalist coup, Jose Germain, a well-known French writer, calculated that the vanity of the ex-kaiser was such that an appeal to a might bring an interview. In Holland lived his god-daughter, Emma Thieresse, an aspiring journalist who spoke German. Germain conceived the idea of telling William that in Alsace there was about to be started a journal of loyal Germans to be devoted to "his majesty," and which wished a word from him. He sent Mlle. Thieresse instructions to interview the kaiser for this paper. One may have his own ideas as to the method of the employer, but Germain, who wears the Legion of Honor and the croix de guerre for war bravery, says he was fair enough when one was dealing with the ex-kaiser.

He sent instructions to Mlle. Thieresse. And here is her story.

BY EMMA THIERESSE.

"I have just come back from Doorn. Everybody knows now the geographic situation of this little Dutch locality, which is acquiring world reputation, thanks to the guest of baleful memory whom it shelters.

"And the kaiser has well chosen his place of abode. First, because he does not have to fear too many curious visitors and, secondly, because he lives in a really charming spot. The first reason explains itself by the distance and primitive means of travel in this locality. A train took me from Maastricht to Arnhem in three hours and three quarters, and from Arnhem to Doorn I consigned myself to a steam tramway which took three hours to get there.

"I passed the time by regarding the countryside, which, although monotonous, astonished me by its beauty. Amerongen, the former residence of the ex-kaiser, precedes Doorn by four kilometers. It has no aristocratic allure. It was shown a rectangular house without style.

"Finally, Doorn. It was night. In the village square four electric globes held by arms of forged iron surmounted fountain-ornamented with tritons. Two hotels stood on the corners. I picked mine and as soon as I had eaten I began my inquiry.

"How is the ex-kaiser?" I asked a portress.

"She is better," was the reply. "We hope she will pass this crisis."

"Friends from Germany still here?" I asked.

"No, there is only the ordinary personnel of some fifty people now," was the reply.

"Only such a few," I said. "Didn't the crown prince come to see his mother?"

"Yes," was the reply. "He was here in November. He was expected at Christmas, but did not come."

"Does all the personnel live in the chateau?" I asked.

"Oh, no," was the answer. "They live in the village. They leave the chateau after dinner."

Finds Lips of Villagers Sealed.

"I saw my questions were boring my informant. I left her and went to walk in the streets of the village. I entered in turn a pastry shop, a paper store and a grocery store, not to buy anything, but to ask questions. More and more I saw all lips were sealed. What did that mean? Was it in Holland or Germany? I learned only that no one is received at Huize Doorn, as the kaiser's place is called, that under no pretext was an audience given to any one, that one never saw the ex-emperor in the streets of the village, except in an automobile, one Englishman and one Dutchman—had been at Doorn for weeks without getting one word of an interview. Finally I was told that all photographing of the kaiser was forbidden.

"I went on my way with a heavy heart. I realized I had undertaken a difficult task. All at once I thought of something. I remembered the name; which I had read somewhere, of a man who was a companion of the kaiser—Adjutant von Ilseman. I went into a butcher shop.

"Can you tell me where Adjutant von Ilseman lives?" I asked.

"At Amerongen," was the reply. "That's provoking," I said. "I have a message for him from his cousin. Do you know any one at the chateau I could send it by?"

"Herr Kogge, perhaps," was the butcher's answer.

"And who is he?" I asked.

"Secretary to the former kaiser," was the reply.

"Where does he live?"

"Villa Wilhelmnia," he said.

Meets Ex-Kaiser's Confidential Friend.

I flew there. I rang and a servant came to the door. I asked for Herr Kogge. She replied that he was in his office. She showed me the way. Part of it was dark. I started, hitting my heels down hard to make a noise. Herr Kogge's bureau was not far from the kaiser's residence. A tragic atmosphere seemed to hang over everything. I shivered. Then three men came, and one of them took me to Herr Kogge's bureau, and in a moment there I was, face to face with a German.

He told me to sit down without asking my name. So much the better. I was on the German blacklist for services done friends during the war and if he had asked my name I would have had to give some one else's. Then in my most confidential tone and best German I told him a little story.

"We are a little club, desirous of establishing a newspaper in Alsace for the purpose of again making popular his majesty and family. It would be a sensation. I have been sent to ask his majesty to give me some of his impressions and permit me to take several snapshots."

When I finished I had the impression that he did not believe me. I watched him study me. He was a pale, dried looking sort of man and behind his black rimmed spectacles he looked like an owl. Then he spoke. He thanked me for my sympathy, but said his imperial patron was forbidden to give interviews or to concern himself with politics. He could not even "inspire" his friends who remained faithful. Through respect for the Dutch government he had to submit.

And then Herr Kogge said, with visible effort: "We can't do anything. So gefallen! wir sind so gefallen!" The words grieved between his teeth. I expressed my regrets. There was nothing to do but go.

Next morning I began again. I succeeded enticing out of the natives the following information:

Although one could very rarely see the emperor because of the hedge

AWAITS RESULT OF CHALLENGE TO REVOLVER DUEL

PARIS, Feb. 3.—Deputy Paul de Cassagnac, speaking to the Associated Press in the chamber lobbies today, said he could make no comment on his challenge published in L'Ouvreur this morning to fight a duel with Leon Daudet, leader of the Royalist association, with army revolvers at fifty feet, firing at will.

M. de Cassagnac pointed out that the law governing French duels provides that forty-eight hours must elapse between the challenge and acceptance or rejection of the challenge. During that time the challenger must say nothing, only his seconds being privileged to talk.

A friend said after the forty-eight hours expired M. de Cassagnac "surely would slap Daudet's face, west, east, north, and south," adding "Be on hand Saturday for the fireworks."

Leon Daudet has wounded many men, but last November he refused a challenge, saying:

"Dueling is a foolish practice. There is no place for it in France since the war."

HARDING'S BOAT KEEPS GETTING STUCK IN MUD

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 3.—The house boat Victoria, carrying President-elect Harding on his vacation cruise up the Florida coast, got into difficulties with mud banks again today and now is so far behind schedule that the passengers may leave it tomorrow or Saturday and complete their trip to St. Augustine by rail.

After spending several hours fast in a mud bank in the Indian river, the Victoria anchored tonight about ten miles below here. In two days it has covered only about fifty miles and still is 260 miles from St. Augustine, where Mr. Harding has an engagement for Monday.

When a short distance above Pompano the Victoria became fast in the mud and finally was pulled off by the speed boat Sea Robin.

Man Indicted for Two Murders Is Found Slain

Samuel Greco, indicted for the murder of two men in a Chicago Heights saloon, was found dead on the outskirts of the suburb last night. He was lying beside the road at Cottage Grove avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth street. His skull was crushed and there were six bullet wounds in the body. Farmers reported they heard the shots and saw two automobiles speeding away after the shooting. There is no clew to the slayers. The Chicago Heights police believe Greco was killed to avenge the deaths of the steel mill workers.

BOY OF 16 ROBS MAIL OF $31,750

Theft in Auburn Park Is Bared by Confession.

A $31,750 mail theft in Auburn Park last Monday was revealed yesterday when police of the detective bureau announced Louis Schiavone, 16 year old truck driver for the Auburn Park branch postoffice, had confessed.

Schiavone is said to have become so frightened after committing the theft that he burned the mail pouch containing $1,750 cash and $30,000 worth of securities, and all but $50 of the loot in the fireplace of his home.

The youthful robber was employed to take the pouches of mail from the postoffice to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad station and turn them over to the mail clerk on the train.

Held Out One Pouch.

Schiavone is said to have confessed he handed some mail to the railroad clerk, but withheld the pouch he intended to rifle. After the train had gone he carried the pouch to a lonely spot near the station, which is at Seventy-ninth street and Wallace avenue, and took out the contents, twenty-four pouches of mail and packages. He then burned the sack, he said.

He took the mail truck to the barns and then spent the evening at a movie show, he said. Then when he became frightened, he went to his home at 512 West Eighty-second street and burned all but five $10 bills, he is said to have admitted.

When a search of Schiavone's home revealed none of the loot the boy's father and brother, Eric and Joseph Schiavone, were taken into custody to be questioned.

Played Lone Hand.

Schiavone at first asserted he was the tool of a gang. He named six and they were taken and questioned. After a further grilling, the boy admitted he had engineered the whole affair himself, the police claim.

Detective Sergeants Gratton, Knowles, O'Neil, and Cusack arrested Schiavone. An erroneous report, printed in afternoon newspapers, indicated that the boy's confession had cleared up the $500,000 Union station robbery.

Steamer Von Tirpitz Goes to Pay the U-Boats' Debts

FEDERAL SLEUTH SPOTS TWO 'HIPS'; BOTH HOLD—TEA

Down in Aurora a bulge on the hip means only one thing. Consequently when Deputy Marshal Thomas Smith noticed two men sauntering through the lobby of the federal building yesterday, each with a suspicious bulge on the hip, his jaw closed with a snap. He took them before Commissioner Mason. Their coat tails were carefully lifted and behold there were two bottles filled with amber fluid. Commissioner Mason smiled.

"Let's test it," he said.

A bottle was placed on his desk. He raised it to his lips, then dropped it with a crash.

"Ugh," he ejaculated, making a wry face, "it's cold tea."

The case was dismissed. The men gave their names as George Stengel and John Mann.

Brent Dow Allinson, conscientious objector, released from Fort Leavenworth last July, is waiting in New York to sail for Europe as a relief worker for the American Friends society relief committee, according to his father, Thomas W. Allinson of Ravinia, last night. It had been rumored that Allinson had been given a job in the United States diplomatic service.

KNOCKING OF ARMY DAMNED SHAME—DAWES

"Too Many Pinheads Throwing Mud."

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—(Special.)—With no effort to temper the vehemence of his feelings, Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, who as a brigadier general had charge of supply procurement in France, continued today before the house committee his assault on government extravagance in peace time and his defense of the American army and its achievements.

Punctuating his remarks with an emphasis indicating long service in France, Gen. Dawes criticized congress for permitting extravagance while looking for flaws in the brilliant record of the army.

"If you men," he said, "would spend more time trying to stem the millions of waste going on under your noses we would have a hell of a lot better government."

"Swing the Ax, Mr. Harding"

"Let the new president," Gen. Dawes said, "come out with a definite plan for a business government that will crystallize public sentiment behind it and it will choke selfish interests that have been wasting public funds.

"There is only one man who can bring about better coordination between government agencies, and that is the president. He can do it only by wielding the meat ax on their damned heads. Unless Harding does it in the first six months of his administration the administration will be a failure.

"This committee should turn its attention to eliminating millions of waste right here in Washington instead of trying to put fly specks on the American army. This is an attempt to bring partisan politics into a purely American enterprise. Criticism is easy. Why the hell do you suppose we went to war? We went to France to win a war, and we did it.

Went Over for a Fight.

"We were over there for a fight," he said. "We could not spend our time trying to find barrels of vinegar and disregard what was happening at the front. We did not bother about a bookkeeping system when a call came from the front for either our wounded men. No, we got the ether for the man who came from the front with orders to get the ether or lose his damned head."

Making clear his lack of sympathy with congressmen and others who are attacking the army, Gen. Dawes alluded to them as pinheaded politicians, and said:

"It is a damned dirty shame that they can intrigue and design and say that one man should be promoted or another should not be. I can say this because I was not of the regular army."

"O, Hell, What's the Use?"

Representative Flood of Virginia, Democrat, tried to soothe Gen. Dawes by telling him that the committee sought to bring out facts, not to blacken the reputation of any one, and wanted light for the future to guard against mistakes of the present war.

"Graters followed the American army to France," suggested Flood.

"Yes, they came," asserted Gen. Dawes. "They were some of the most despicable characters on earth. They tried to help the army by selling it the things it needed at exorbitant prices. There was one man we caught and deported. He was a traitor and I wish we could have shot him. What's his name? O, hell, what's the use? I'm not a muck raker."

Gen. Dawes apologized to several women present for the use of vigorous language. "But, then, you do not understand it," he said, with a smile, and the women smiled back at him as if not displeased.

Gen. Dawes asserted that the accomplishments of the American army were brilliant without parallel.

"Long after this committee is dead and gone and forgotten the achievements of the American army will stand as an everlasting blaze of glory. You have tried to make a mountain out of a mole hill. The people are tired of war talk and fault finding. The army was American, neither Republican nor Democratic."

Pays Tribute to Pershing.

Entering upon a heated defense of Gen. Pershing, a lifelong friend, Dawes commented:

"It will be twenty-five or fifty years before Pershing's place in history is fixed. He could not have won the war if he had sought to put popularity above duty. To have won that war he was willing and ready to sink into an obscure place. He did not seek popularity with his men. He was a disciplinarian but it was for their protection."

Fires at Bomb Car as Blast Rocks Homes

Several persons were cut by flying glass and windows for a distance of half a block were shattered shortly after 11 o'clock last night when a "race bomb" was hurled from an automobile into the doorway of a four story stone front building at 423 East Forty-eighth place, owned by Robert Jackson, a colored postoffice clerk.

The bomb was the fourth exploded in the same block within a year and the second directed at the Jackson home.

Policeman Sees Bomb Thrown.

Policeman Julius Glenn, who was pulling a box at Forty-eighth place and Vincennes avenue, saw the bomb hurled from a touring car containing three men. The explosion occurred as the machine turned south in Grand boulevard. Glenn rushed after it and fired three shots at it as it turned a corner at high speed and disappeared.

The front door was blown in, a deep hole was scooped out of the stone porch, and a stone balustrade was shattered. Every window in the building was broken as well as those of houses on either side and across the street.

Cut by Glass.

Of the twenty houses in the block only two are occupied by white families. In one of these, across the street at 416, three persons were cut by glass. They were Eugene Stuart, Miss Ada Small, and Miss Mary Hill. Four colored occupants of the bombed building—William Blake, William Christmas, Roosevelt Jackson, and Eugene Harris—also were injured.

Jackson denied to the police that he had been the recipient of threats. He said he purchased the property in 1919 and that on April 3, 1920, a bomb was exploded which broke all the windows.

Black Hand Bomb?

A bomb exploded in the doorway of John Pielie's grocery at 1031 North Franklin street blew out a portion of the wall, broke windows in the three story building, and knocked Pielie's stock from the shelves. No one was injured. Six families live on the floors above the store. Pielie's wife, Anna, Mrs. May Laski, and Mrs. John Gaber were thrown from their beds.

Pielie refused to talk about the cause. Ernest Stock, agent for the building, said there was no labor trouble. The police believe it was a Black Hand bomb.

Shortly before the explosion three men were seen to leave a package in the doorway. They drove away in a black touring car.

BRITISH SUB K-5 SUNK BY IRISH; DUBLIN REPORTS

New York, Feb. 3.—(Special.)—The British submarine K-5, which sank in the English channel off Land's End two weeks ago with six officers and fifty-seven men on board, was destroyed by the Irish, according to the Sinn Féin, a De Valera organ in this city.

A dispatch purporting to have come from Dublin, and published in the Sinn Féin today, credits the sinking of the British submarine to "an electrically controlled projectile" invented by an Irish engineer. This is the dispatch: "Dublin—Ireland has struck her first blow against the British navy. On Jan. 29 Irish seacraft operating near the spot where Archbishop Mannix was sized last year sighted the enemy submarine K-5 and destroyed it. The submarine, one of the largest and most powerful in the British fleet, was blown to pieces. How this victory was accomplished, it is not permissible to tell at this time other than to say that a new weapon, somewhat in the nature of an electrically controlled projectile, recently invented by an Irish engineer, made it possible."

RESCUER OF 600 YANKS IS KILLED DURING AMBUSH

Otranto Hero Victim of Fighting.

DUBLIN, Feb. 3.—District Inspector Francis Worthington Craven was one of those killed in the ambush Wednesday at Ballinacree.

He served in the British navy during the war and received the American distinguished service cross and the British distinguished service order. While commanding the British destroyer Mounsey he saved 600 American soldiers from the American transport Otranto when that vessel was lost as a result of a collision with the steamer Kashmir off the Scottish coast in October, 1918.

Joined R. I. C. Recently.

Inspector Craven retired from the navy with the rank of lieutenant commander and only joined the Royal Irish constabulary a few weeks ago.

The American distinguished service medal was awarded by President Wilson to Lieut. Craven in 1919 and was presented to him at Chatham, England, in February of that year by Maj. Gen. John Biddle, commander of the American forces in the United Kingdom.

Thirty minutes after the Otranto struck the rocks off Lundy Island, the destroyer Mounsey, itself damaged by the heavy seas, answered a distress call. Capt. Davidson of the Otranto warned Lieut. Craven not to attempt to reach the side of the transport. Craven, however, carried out his maneuver and succeeded in getting to the side of the Otranto, from which he took 600 American soldiers.

WAR RULE FOR DUBLIN

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 3.—Martial law may be proclaimed in Dublin within the next few days if activities of rebels continue to increase, according to a high military authority.

This authority said today he sincerely hoped it would be unnecessary to proclaim martial law, which would upset the whole social and business life of the Irish capital.

He takes the view that the present outburst of violence is a demonstration by the rebels in connection with court martial trials now going on of men accused of the murder of British officers in Red Sunday, Nov. 21, and he believes it will cease when the trials are over.

Fifteen Die in Two Attacks

Two ambushes, in each of which brown forces were killed, took place in Ireland today.

Nine policemen were killed outright and two others gravely wounded when two lorries ran into an ambush between Dromkeen and New Pallas, in County Limerick.

The first lorry ran the gantlet of heavy fire from both sides of the road safely, all the casualties being sustained in the second motor vehicle.

The second of today's attacks took place near Ballinacree, County Cork. According to reports reaching Dublin tonight, Constables Taylor and Carter were shot dead and Constable Fuller was seriously wounded.

Six Sinn Féin men were killed and a number were wounded last night when a force said to number several hundred attacked a police patrol near Rosscarbery, County Cork.

Police Repel Attackers.

The police, who numbered fifteen, were soon reinforced, and the attacking force, whose base of operations was the residence of Thomas Kingston, a justice of the peace, was driven off. There were no casualties among the police.

This morning the Kingston residence and the Rosscarbery town hall were burned to the ground.

Maj. Carew, a British intelligence officer, was shot through the arm tonight while dining in a Dublin restaurant. His assailant, who was dining at a nearby table, escaped from persons who grappled with him while police were being summoned.

Word was received here from Liverpool tonight that Matthew Fowler and Francis MacPartlin were tried today and found not guilty of having murdered William Ward, who raised the

8 CABINET POSTS FILLED, HARDING AIDS ANNOUNCE

Hughes Is Premier; Navy Goes to Lowden.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
Washington, Feb. 3.—(Special.)—Senator Fall of New Mexico and Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio arrived in Washington today directly from the Harding houseboat in Florida, with the latest information on the construction of the Harding cabinet.

After talks with these two confidants of the president-elect, Republican senators were disposed to regard the following appointments as definitely settled:

Secretary of state—CHARLES EVANS HUGHES of New York.
Secretary of the treasury—ANDREW W. MELLON of Pittsburgh.
Secretary of war—JOHN W. WEEKS of Massachusetts.
Attorney general—HARRY M. DAUGHERTY of Ohio.
Secretary of the navy—FRANK O. LOWDEN of Illinois.
Secretary of the interior—ALBERT FALL of New Mexico.
Secretary of agriculture—HENRY WALLACE of Iowa.
Secretary of labor—J. J. DAVIS of Indiana.

These Remain in Doubt.

Still under consideration by the president-elect are the following appointments:

Secretary of commerce—Herbert Hoover or Charles B. Warren of Michigan.
Postmaster general—Will H. Hays of Indiana.

It was an impression gained by senators that Mr. Harding had formally offered the navy portfolio to Mr. Lowden, but it was not definitely established that a reply had been received from the former Illinois governor, who is residing in California.

It was indicated that if Mr. Lowden should refuse a post in the cabinet there would be a shifting of the positions on the state, and that Charles B. Warren of Michigan might be asked to accept a place. In any event, Gen. Dawes, it was stated, would be invited to become one of the chief advisers of the new president, probably as head of a commission to investigate the entire government service on an economical and businesslike basis, a project which Mr. Harding desires to embark upon as soon as he assumes office.

To Smooth Way for Hoover.

It is reported that a part of the mission of the two emissaries from the houseboat was to dissipate, if possible, the determined opposition of Republican leaders to the appointment of Herbert Hoover in his cabinet. Mr. Harding wants Hoover in his cabinet, but he has been startled by the outburst of rage and gnashing of teeth in the precincts of his closest friends in the senate.

"Hoover is not a Republican!" snort the Republican senators from the progressive Johnson of California to the standpat Penrose of Pennsylvania, and echo answers "not a Republican" from the ranks of the intermediate shades of Republicanism.

It was not apparent that the emissaries had accomplished much in this direction tonight, the opposition to Hoover's appointment to an important post outside the cabinet, such as chairman of a commission on reconstruction. Mr. Daugherty said he would have a long distance telephone conversation with Senator Harding tomorrow, in which, presumably, he will report the situation in detail.

To Set Special Session Date.

It is expected now that Senator Harding will announce his complete cabinet about a week before the inauguration. He will reach Washington, March 3.

Another matter, Messrs. Fall and Daugherty took up with senate leaders on behalf of the president-elect was the question of the date for the forthcoming extraordinary session of congress. Mr. Harding had contemplated convening the new congress on April 4, but in view of the possibility of appropriation bills falling at this session, on account of the filibuster against the emergency tariff measure, he thought it might be wise to issue the call for March 21, in order that the new congress could dispose of the supply bills and get an early start on tariff and tax revision.

There was a conference with Senators Lodge, Knox, and Brandegee, at which it was decided that determination of the matter should be postponed until it appears whether an agreement can be reached to dispose of the tariff bill and clear the way for the passage of all appropriation bills.

CITY HALL'S FEELINGS HURT

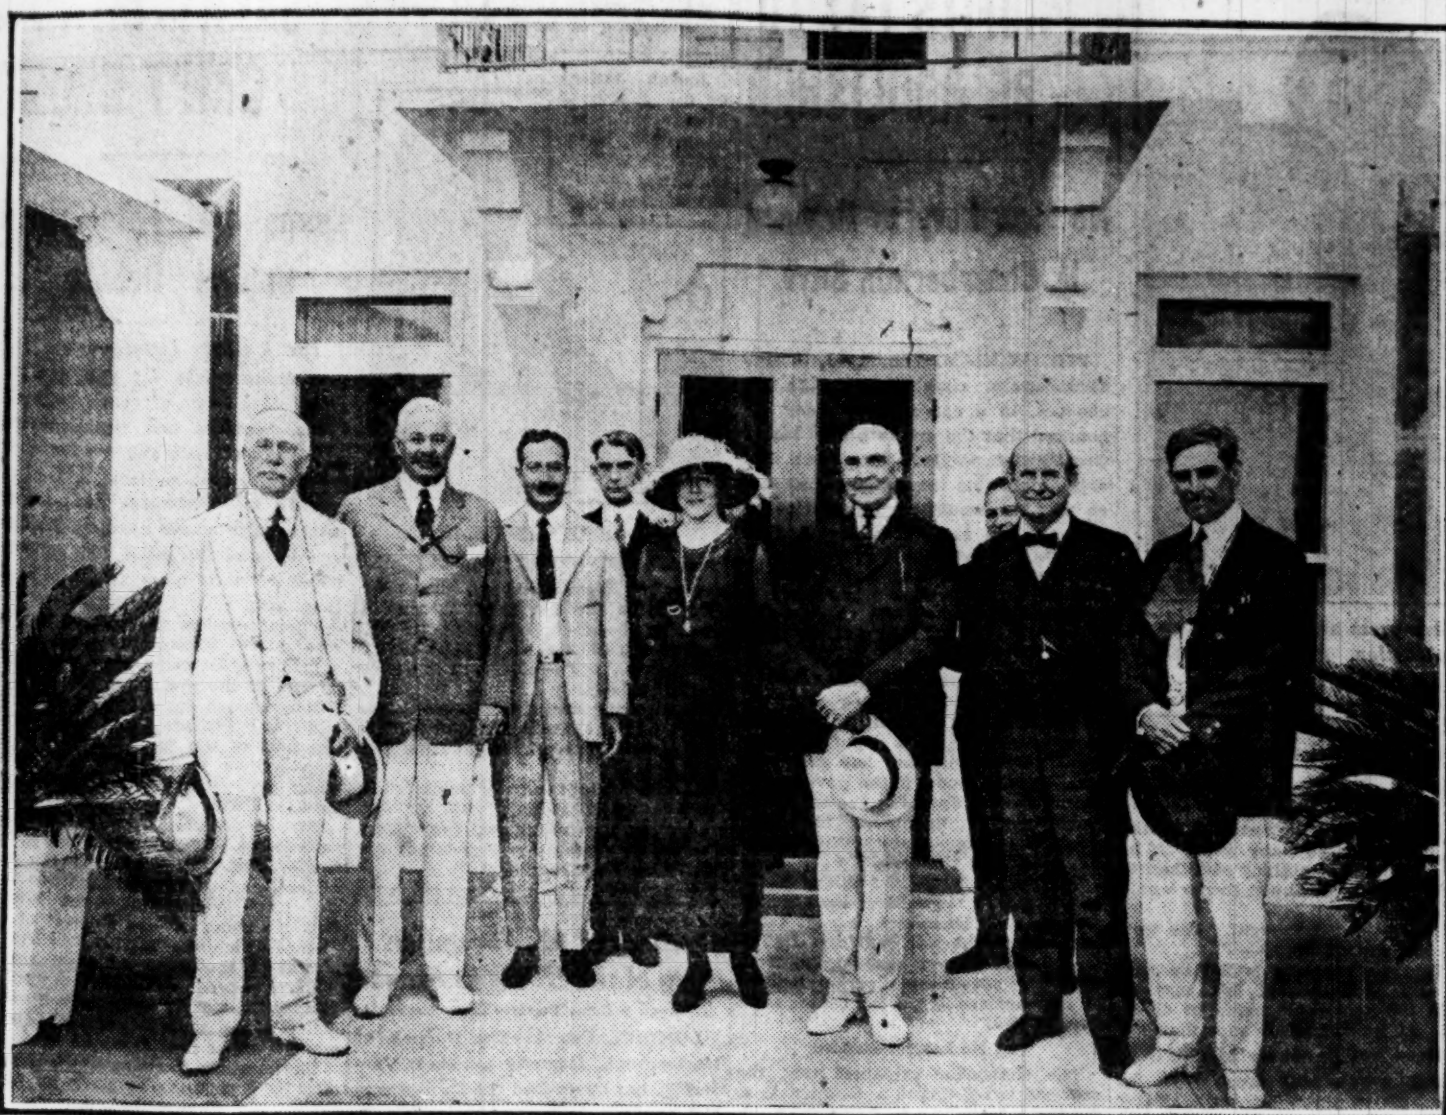

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 3.—(Special.)—In offering the navy portfolio to former Gov. Lowden of Illinois, President-elect Harding runs counter to the Thompson-Lundin machine, although no protest has been filed. In fact, Mr. Harding made it plain that when Mayor Thompson called upon him in Chicago, he merely said that he hoped Mr. Harding would not "punish" the Thompson Republican organization by appointing any of its enemies. Mr. Harding chooses to think Mr. Lowden is not an enemy or to ignore the situation.

The tender of the navy portfolio to Mr. Lowden has been something of a blow to A. T. Hart of Kentucky, who was considered distinctly in the running for this position a few weeks ago. Andrew W. Mellon of Pittsburgh, now conceded the post of secretary of the treasury, was next known to Mr. Harding until after the election. When he came to Marion he was asked to wait in the parlor until Mr. Harding was at leisure, a proceeding that indicated he was not at that time in the cabinet list.

Australians Warned of 'Yellow Peril' by Premier

BRISBANE, Queensland, Feb. 3.—In a speech here today Premier E. G. Theodore declared that any one who doubted that Australians would soon be called upon to defend their homes against Asiatic invasion was living in a fool's paradise. Asiatic ideas and aspirations, he added, were a menace to the peace of the Australian Labor party.

EXTREME STYLES TONED DOWN BY MRS. HARDING

Higher Necks, Longer Skirts, She Says.

New York, Feb. 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the president-elect, is doing some strenuous indoor shopping in her suite at the Ritz-Carlton. Many orders have been placed for important items of her White House wardrobe. So far, it became known today, a woman customer has distanced all her masculine competitors in obtaining these longed-for orders.

Changes Modiste's Designs.

Five evening gowns have been selected from models shown by this woman customer, who is joyously constructing gowns differing from the original models, in accordance with Mrs. Harding's taste. All of these gowns will be designed for Mrs. Harding. The models shown merely present the general features of a desired costume.

The evening gowns that Mrs. Harding has ordered so far are more like shades of Republicanism. None of them is cut low and all have short sleeves. They are moderately décolleté, and in ordering them Mrs. Harding ignored the prevailing style which requires a V shaped back reaching nearly to the waist and no sleeves.

Some of the Gowns.

The evening gowns include one of beaded white satin, a green taffeta with trimming of silver wheat which is regarded as charming by all who have seen it, a gray spangled gown, one of pale blue tulle and another of varicolored brocade. All of these evening gowns are elaborately trimmed and all have long trains.

The skirts of all the gowns will be not longer than the style. The skirts of the ground in most instances. When asked whether this was because Mrs. Harding disapproved of short skirts or because it was felt long skirts are more dignified, the customer remarked naively: "Well, but it is thought that long skirts are coming in again, you know."

Style Arbiters of Dignity.

Therefore she seemed to suggest Mrs. Harding may be permitted to be as dignified as she likes, since it will not conflict with the style. Another attractive gown is to be of blue-lace, embroidered, and a striking and handsome evening wrap is of white velvet, beaded in black. Mrs. Harding chose some other wraps and several other dresses of chiffon, crepe de chine, and foulard. The foulards are to be in green, blue, and a dull soft pink.

NINE GIRLS SAY PRISONER WAS THEIR ANNOYER

Suspect Taken in Battle on the South Side.

Nine girls last night visited the Hyde Park station and identified Helder Asher, 30 years old, as the man who annoyed them during the last two months. Asher is believed by the police to be a "Peeping Tom." They say he has been posing as a salesman to gain entrance to homes on the south side.

The man was captured in a battle with the police at Forty-seventh street and Grand boulevard after a young woman complained he tried to make advances to her. The police say they have the man against whom more than 100 complaints have been received. More women who have sent complaints to the Hyde Park, Englewood, and Grand Crossing stations will look at Asher today.

The capture was made by Policeman Clarence Hornberger with the aid of Detective Sergeants William Wragg and Joseph Connelly. The detectives were sent to Forty-seventh street after a young woman had telephoned Desk Sergeant James Fitzgerald of the Englewood station of the man's actions. Meantime Policeman Hornberger had taken up the chase. The three closed in on Asher and after a fight arrested him.

All evening girls of the district filed in to the Hyde Park station and asked to have a look at Asher. This Tribune withholds publication of their names.

Protest Use of Welfare Donations for Legion Bldg.

A protest was telegraphed last night to President Wilson and others in Washington against the use for any purpose other than soldiers and sailors' welfare work of money contributed by the public and handled by agencies that operated during the war in the camps here and with the army in Europe. The protest is aimed at the offer of one of the welfare societies to turn over part of its unexpended quota of contributions for a building in Washington for the use of the American Legion. The telegrams were prepared at the regular meeting of the United States War Veterans' legislative committee.

U. S. MUST HAVE SAY IN GERMAN DEBT—TARDIEU

France Backs Supreme Council Stand.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The French parliament, chamber and senate, gave its seal of approval today to the government's declarations on the decisions taken by the supreme council at Paris respecting reparations, disarmament, and other questions. It received Premier Briand's declaration with all outward and visible signs that promise a large majority in the vote of confidence which the government will seek tomorrow.

André Tardieu, former high commissioner to the United States, has given notice of an interpellation. This appeared to be taken most seriously by the government, but was a moderate attack against the Briand cabinet, especially M. Loucheur, and on the haste the French government had displayed to settle matters concerning the United States before the new administration was installed.

U. S. Must Have Say.

Criticizing the Paris conference, M. Tardieu declared: "There can be no capitalization, mobilization, or discounting of the German debt until the United States is a party to the agreement."

In making his declaration, M. Briand informed the deputies that the French government "has in no wise renounced the purpose of collecting the entire debt due from Germany if she recovers her economic prosperity." M. Tardieu did not finish his speech tonight, but will continue tomorrow, when M. Loucheur, minister of finance, who was especially attacked, will reply. Then M. Briand will answer M. Cachin, who read the declaration of the Communists after that of the government was finished today. The Communist declaration advocates a world-wide revolution and immediate peace with Moscow.

RESERVE BANK HEAD DECLARES 'CRISIS IS PAST'

W. P. G. Harding Predicts Prosperity for 1921.

Breaking into the realm of prophecy for a moment, W. P. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board, last night went a step further in his discussion of financial and business conditions than he has done in recent utterances. "Prosperity" was his forecast for 1921.

"Business is rapidly adjusting itself to the new levels and while there is much unemployment just at present that condition is only temporary," he told 600 members of the Chicago chapter of the American Institute of Banking at their annual banquet in the Hotel La Salle.

"Numerous signs of a better feeling, signs that business is getting ready to proceed on a safer basis, are appearing, and we all feel that we have ahead of us a time of real, solid prosperity given way to a feeling of confidence that that time is not far off."

Urges Fight for Foreign Trade.

Mr. Harding devoted extended emphasis to the necessity of a revival and an extension of American foreign trade.

"Europe," he continued, "cannot work back to normal without the help of America, and America cannot become normal unless and until the normalcy of Europe is in some sense restored, and until the restoration has proceeded far enough to justify the conclusion that it will eventually be completed."

"Our banking position is sound and stronger than it has been for many months, and the business community, which at first was over exhilarated and then unduly depressed, has recovered its normal state of mind."

Danger of Crisis Past.

"Public sentiment today undoubtedly approves of working back to normal. Whatever danger of a crisis there may have been has passed. The gloomy forebodings which many felt a year ago because of the knowledge that readjustments were impending have given way to a feeling of conservative optimism, renewed courage, and restored confidence."

Discussing the difficulties of expanding American foreign commerce, Mr. Harding mentioned the allied reparations demands upon Germany, specifically the 12 per cent share of all exports. He hesitated.

"The foreign trade situation is badly muddled," he said. "Yet we sit by and raise no hand to prevent the imposition of further restrictions."

'SICK' MAY GET NO WHISKY AFTER ANOTHER 90 DAYS

Physicians who specialize in "fit prescriptions" and druggists who fill them received bad news yesterday. They were informed that less than 70,000 gallons of medicinal whisky remains in Chicago bonded warehouses. This supply, they were not long in calculating, will be exhausted in less than three months. Under prevailing restrictions, druggists will not be permitted to purchase any more from distilleries; neither will wholesalers be allowed to replenish their stocks of whisky.

"Unless the government order is rescinded," said Director Stone yesterday, "there will be no whisky left in the warehouses in ninety days. Prescriptions have heretofore been issued and filled at the rate of about 100,000 a month."

Expect No Cabinet Change.

I am able to state authoritatively that there will be no change in the German cabinet before the whole matter of reparations has been thrashed out in London. A majority in the reichstag has confidence that Dr. Brüning will be able to place before the allies a proposal which will effect a revision of the demands.

SELL 46 BOXES AT $150 EACH FOR MRS. FIELD'S SHOW

Forty-six boxes at $150 each were sold yesterday for Mrs. Marshall Field's charity championship wrestling bouts to be held at the Coliseum on Washington's birthday. The list of patrons and patronesses now exceeds 100 and there is every indication that ringside boxes will resemble the horse show on the opening night.

Among those who purchased boxes were Mrs. Fred L. Mandel, Harold McCormick, and E. F. Meyer. Mrs. Field herself sold boxes to Edmund D. Hulbert, president of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company; Harry H. Merrick, president of the Great Lakes Trust company; Charles A. Monroe, and Mrs. John F. Jelke. She found Julius Rosenwald was out of the city and promptly "canvassed" him by telegraph.

The other seats, at $2, $3, $5, and $10, will be placed on sale next week. Mail reservations are now being received at the headquarters, 151 North Michigan avenue.

GEORGE NEEDS A LEMON SQUEEZER; WHO'LL AID HIM?

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PARIS, Feb. 3.—George, the bartender at the Hotel Crillon, wants a lemon squeezer for making Bronx cocktails and a beer scraper to remove high collars from long Philisena. He has tried everywhere in Paris and he can't find either utensil. He has several cocktail shakers, automatic, hydraulic cork removers, and all the other appliances that are found in a first class "place."

"I wish I knew where some of my old pals are located now," said George, reminiscingly. "Some of the boys I worked with at the Knickerbocker in New York, or the Blackstone at Chicago, or the Brown Palace in Denver, or the Palace in San Francisco would surely help me out."

"They have no use for those things in the States now. Why won't some good fellow help me out?"

TITLED RUSSIAN GIRL LIEUTENANT EAGER FOR FIGHT

Wants Another Chance to Down Bolsheviks.

BY EUGENE SZATMARY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.)
BUDAPEST, Feb. 3.—Every night a small party of Russian officers meets in the lobby of the Hotel Ritz in Budapest. Some are generals and other high officers, but a tall young lieutenant is treated with the greatest respect. All the high officers kiss the hand of the lieutenant when she comes down from her room. For she is a woman of the highest rank, the Baroness Fredericks, daughter of the former court minister of the czar.

I called on her today in her salon. She had just exchanged her uniform with her five decorations for an afternoon gown.

Led Group of Tanks.

"The bolshevik murdered my father," she said. "He was a true servant of the czar and was forced to follow him to death. At that time I fled from Petrograd and joined the army of Gen. Judentich."

"I was accustomed to the soldier's profession for I served in the czar's army, where I obtained my commission."

"I was in charge of a group of tanks which the bolshevik government had given to the anti-bolshevik army. We had to fight against terrible difficulties. I will never forget the day I reached Ropchag with my people—we could see Petrograd lying before us only twenty versts away. We thought that the next day we would be able to march into Petrograd, but then Trotsky threw his divisions against us and it was all over."

Ready to Fight Again.

"I went to Copenhagen and from there to Berlin, and then I joined the army of Gen. Wrangel in south Russia. There I fought against the Reds until the catastrophe. We had to flee, and now I am here."

"And next?"
"I am only waiting to see where the next fight will be. As soon as it begins, and then I'll be in it. My estates are in the hands of the Reds and I no longer have a home. But it will not always be so. We will set up new anti-bolshevik divisions. In the spring the fight will certainly begin again."

CENTRAL EUROPE READY TO REBEL, RED CHIEFS SAY

Soviet Propaganda Hits
India and China.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, by The Chicago Tribune.)
BERLIN, Feb. 3.—Bolshevik propaganda aid extended to Gabriel d'Annunzio for his Fiume fiasco and the spreading of news of intrigue throughout the Balkans, Asia Minor, and the orient were detailed in the report on the Communist congress at Bremen which were intercepted while en route to Moscow. Following the commissars' reports on England, France, and Germany, members representing Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Jugoslavia, the Caucasus, Spain, and Portugal read statements.

Commissar Guttman, whose headquarters are at Prague, read a report, which shows that the propaganda organization is continuing to treat the countries once forming Austria-Hungary as one nation.

Austria "Well Organized."
"Our position is very strong in Austria," he declared, "and sufficiently strong in Czechoslovakia. In Hungary we must continue our preparatory work. However, the Hungarian situation is growing better every day. Our efforts in Jugoslavia and Roumania, begun recently, have been successful."

It was seen how easy it is to bring the population into a revolutionary spirit last September when we received orders to accelerate our work. Working classes are ripe and await only the signal for action."

The report then detailed the Ukrainian, Galician, and Bessarabian troubles, the hatreds, and the national aspirations which have been taken advantage of by the Bolsheviks for building up their party.

Represented at the Spa.
During the Spa conference Bolshevik representatives posing as Ukrainians and Galicians were present, the report said, continuing.

Premier Lloyd George, on account of his differences with the French, was friendly to the Galicians," said the document. "He did not have the slightest suspicion that he was dealing with our agents. History will show how we strengthened our position through this fact."

Obtained excellent results by supporting D'Annunzio in his Fiume adventure. Through him we have also sent money to Jugoslavia. Events show that Comrade Wodowosoff was right when he predicted D'Annunzio's case to us for action.

Ready for "Red Flag."
"Summarizing—Central Europe is ready to hoist the red flag when the time comes. Our supplies of money and food are being increased. We are receiving seven boxes of gold through Stettin. Dr. Hillson, the Soviet ambassador at Prague, deserves the highest praise."

Commissar Liawa, who was en route to Amsterdam, reported on the progress of the communist movement in Transcaucasia, where he has been working.

Our nets have been stretched until today they reach Afghanistan in northern India," the report said. "At a conference at Samarkand delegates came from the Himalayan region, Afghanistan, Madras, Delhi, Calcutta, Bombay, and even Ceylon. They saw for the first time what a wonderful common hatred against a common oppressor is. They even forgot their castes, jealousies, and wars. The 1,500 delegates at the meeting pledged unity of action in a move for national freedom."

Turkmen on Over.
"The congress at Ankara led to the creation of the 'union for the liberation of the east.' We have won Turkmen. A commissar was sent to Mongolia to form brotherhoods. There we drive out the Chinese rule and founded the first oriental state. Under our flag the Pan-Islam movement is spreading."

Mohammedan priests, whose influence is enormous, promise to support us. Turkomans and other tribesmen furnished us 60,000 of the world's best cavalrymen by which we pacified Turkmen.

India is the main center for our work. There are propaganda schools at Delhi and Benares—almost under British eyes. The Delhi Communist party, founded on July 6, now numbers 91,000 active paying members. We have collected 112,000 from them. The organization committee costs about $15,000 monthly. The miners' unions have contributed generously, and likewise the clergy.

Armenia held out against us for a long time, but finally, despairing of entente help, it became bolshevik. This was also a moral victory for us, because Russia saved the Armenian people from extermination. Georgia remains a Russian center.

In the spring of 1921 the east will break its fetters and advance to the rescue of the proletarians in the west."

NAB GOLD COAST BOY BURGLAR AT STUMER HOUSE

Trapped Using Jimmy on Side Window.

Gold Coast residents last night aided the police in capturing a youth who tried to rob the home of Mrs. Blanche J. Stumer, 20 Scott street, widow of Louis M. Stumer, joint owner of the North American building and one of Chicago's leading business men. Mrs. Stumer is wintering at Palm Beach.

The burglar's identity is a mystery. Harry Lee, the name he gave himself to be fictitious. He refused to give a street address or answer questions. He has no record at the bureau of identification. It is hoped he will be identified through the published picture in The Tribune.

Seen Jimmy Window.
Mrs. Louise Kayne, wife of Alfred Kayne, 24 Scott street, was the first to discover him. He was jimmying a rear window in the Stumer home.

She ran to the street to notify a policeman and encountered Edward O'Neil, chauffeur for John G. Garibaldi, commission broker, living at 1236 Astor street.

Mr. O'Neil telephoned the police.

About the same time a member of the family of Francis E. Manierre, realty broker, 28 Scott street, saw the burglar. She informed Mr. Manierre, who also telephoned the East Chicago avenue station. The five-man squad, consisting of Detective Sergeants William Blaul, Fred Kemper, Fred Sack, and William Fred, was already on its way. It arrived three minutes after O'Neil had telephoned.

Caught in the Act.
Kemper ran around the house. Lee was preparing to crawl through the window. He saw Kemper and jumped to the ground, drawing his revolver. Kemper, who had also drawn his gun, shouted:

"Drop it or I'll shoot."

Lee hesitated as though undecided whether to battle or run. Kemper decided for him by leaping on him and disarming him. Before Lee could offer resistance other officers arrived. In Lee's side pocket was found a black jacket.

Mr. Manierre and other neighbors complimented the police and said they would appear in court when Lee was arraigned. Other Gold Coast residents will be asked to view Lee to determine whether he is the man whom many persons have reported as lurking in the district recently.

Stumer's home contains rare oriental rugs, art objects, and silverware.

OAK PARK WOMEN PICK MRS. STANDISH FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE

Fourteen women's organizations yesterday met in the Oak Park High school and selected Mrs. Albert H. Standish of 729 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, as a candidate for election on the board of the high school. If elected Mrs. Standish will fill the vacancy left by Mrs. W. A. Douglas of Oak Park. Mrs. T. O. Perry was chairman of the meeting and Mrs. J. La Velle Simmons secretary.

Promotes Policeman Who Killed Gunman

Recognition of the good work of Patrolman Otto Radtke of the Maxwell street station, who shot and killed a bandit after the latter had wounded another patrolman Wednesday night, came yesterday when Chief of Police Fitzmorris promoted Radtke to a sergeant.

"He killed a holdup man, that's all I want to know," the chief said. "Whether it was by luck or design, makes no difference to me."

The dead gunman was identified yesterday as Harry Kerr, 27 years old, 415 South Winchester avenue.

Policeman Peterson and Saloonkeeper Are Freed

Paul Peterson, former detective sergeant at Sheffield avenue station, and Abe Nelson, saloonkeeper at Chicago avenue and Robey street, were freed of confidence game charges by a jury in Judge Thomson's court last night. An indictment charged the pair with agreeing to deliver to Matthew Marchol, 1201 West Chicago avenue, twenty-five cases of whisky in return for $2,750.

Marchol did not receive his whisky and Nelson was held up in Peterson's machine shop and robbed of the money.

Flies High with Show
Folks—Flits.

The last cabaret performance of the evening was over last Friday night when a portly, smooth shaven, middle aged gentleman pushed his way into the Mariage gardens. Behind him trailed 100 chorus girls. One hundred, count 'em!

After they had been seated the gentleman spied the manager, Ernie Young. He called him over.

"I'm Ellison of Pease & Ellison of New York," he said. "These chorus ladies want to see your show."

"Too late for the shows; they are all over," "Bring 'em on again," said Mr. "Ellison." He pressed two $100 bills into Mr. Young's hand. They were brought on again. When Mr. "Ellison" came to settle up he had to peel three more $100 notes from his roll.

Meets Hotel Manager.
Saturday morning found Mr. "Ellison" parked in the lobby of the Blackstone hotel. Presently he noticed William Tompkins, manager.

"I'm Ellison of Pease & Ellison, brokers of New York," he said. "You don't remember me but—" Mr. "Ellison" went into details. He reminded Mr. Tompkins of bygone times. He recalled mutual friends. He waxed fulsome.

"I'm part owner of one of the shows now here," he confided. "Wouldn't you like to see it?" Mr. Tompkins would. Mr. "Ellison" said no time was like the present to get the passes.

Two Tickets; His Compliments.
Presently he came back with two tickets. He gave them to Tompkins with his "compliments." Mr. "Ellison" tarried to remark to the world that he was due to return to New York on the noon train.

He called over the office boy. "Boy, you've been a steady young feller. It pays. Here's $1,000 worth of stock in the Island Oil company. Keep it for a neat egg."

After they had revived the office boy they went back to the Blackstone. There Mr. "Ellison" suddenly discovered that he was a trifle "short of ready cash." Would Mr. Tompkins cash a check for $50? He would.

Mr. "Ellison" said he must hurry to the Drake hotel, where his four room suite was holding his baggage. He vanished. They haven't seen him since.

O, yes. The check, drawn on the Bankers' Trust company of New York, came back yesterday marked "No funds."

Again, a telegram to Pease & Ellison, one of the largest brokerage houses in New York, brought the information that "Our Mr. Ellison has not been out of New York City for the last five months."

$135,000 STOLEN BONDS BOUGHT BY 20 CHICAGOANS

Memphis Banker, Quizzed,
Resigns His Job.

Through the records of C. F. Childs & Co., Chicago brokers, $135,000 worth of stolen Liberty bonds, taken from bank messengers at the point of a revolver by robbers in Brooklyn last November, were traced yesterday to twenty innocent Chicago holders.

These holders do not have to turn the bonds back and cannot be held responsible, according to officials of the federal reserve bank.

The authorities have not asked for the names of the Chicago holders of the stolen bonds," said R. J. Friss, secretary of the Childs office in Chicago.

"I have traced every one. The buyers not only are innocent but also have a perfectly good title to them. The treasury department has ruled that government bonds purchased in good faith cannot be reclaimed. Our part in the transaction cannot be questioned, because we purchased in good faith from reputable concerns. We are only helping to find the thieves who made the haul in Brooklyn."

Quizzed Banker He Resigns.
W. L. Huntley Jr., vice president of the National City bank of Memphis, when questioned by the police of that city, admitted he had acted as a broker for "B. Anderson" in disposing of $85,000 worth of bonds. He insisted he had acted in good faith, but resigned as vice president of the bank shortly after being questioned.

Huntley said Anderson had asked him to sell the bonds, and had offered him a commission of $1,000. He accepted the bonds, he said, and called Maurice Joseph of Joseph Myers, Inc., a jewelry firm, and asked him to dispose of them. Joseph sold $85,000 worth to Fridly, Williams & Co. of Memphis. R. E. Fridly, senior member of this firm, later disposed of them to the United States bank, and they came from this bank to Childs in Chicago.

"Made Sale as Favor."
Huntley says Joseph and he were to split the commission on the sale. Joseph, when grilled by the police, insisted he had made the sale only as a favor to Huntley and had not received any money for his efforts. Neither is he held.

Fridly admits he purchased the bonds from Joseph and that he purchased $135,000 worth from a "Mr. Cameron" who, he says, was recommended to him by his attorney, Daniel Brewer, of Clarkdale, Miss.

The Memphis police believe several bundles of bonds were brought to Memphis from New York on January 7 by two men who gave their names as Frank Goldberg and Peter Duffy. These men, they suspect, delivered the bonds to Cameron and Anderson. They were arrested for a violation of the liquor law, held one day, fined $250 each and released. The New York police are now on their trail.

Capt. Collins Asks Shakeup
at Chicago Avenue Station

Another police transfer order, which will take fifteen policemen, including one lieutenant and several sergeants, from Chicago avenue station, is being considered by Chief of Police Fitzmorris. Capt. Morgan A. Collins, transferred to the district a month ago, requested the change. It is said he found certain members of his new command too friendly with hotel keepers in the district.

THE BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MACWHORTER.
Mrs. Hon. J. Arnold is a member of the board of directors of the Chicago Junior Home and Farm School, located on a 150 acre farm at Rosy Alt on Heights, near St. Joseph, Mich. The site was obtained through Mr. and Mrs. Arnold. About a year and a half ago the dormitory was destroyed by fire, and the boys are now being cared for in a residence and barn near the farm. A campaign to raise $250,000 by public subscription for building, equipment, and endowment purposes will be held next month.

"Chicago Junior" is a nonsectarian institution, caring for orphans and half-orphans whose parents are unable to give them proper home care and supervision.

All Chicago churches are asked to observe Feb. 5 as "China Famine Relief Sunday." The Chicago chairman and treasurer of the China Famine Relief Fund is John Jay Abbot, 208 South La Salle street, to whom checks may be sent.

Even with the importation of rations it is impossible for hundreds of Europe's starving children to regain their health without leaving the country. They are being exported to Norway and Sweden. These revelations were made recently at a meeting of the foreign language committee of the European Relief Council, which is seeking to raise $1,000,000 in Chicago for the 3,500,000 starving children of Europe.

SUBURBAN FARE RAISE CASE IS UP TOMORROW

The appeal of the railroad's operating out of Chicago for a 20 per cent increase in suburban fares will be opposed by H. M. Slater when the case comes up before the interstate commerce commission tomorrow. Mr. Slater will claim one railroad, the Northwestern, loses $140,000 annually on "deadhead" transportation.

Collectors and conductors on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad yesterday were instructed to carry out the following new rules:

Every passenger must have a ticket. A woman cannot say to the conductor, "My husband is in the smoking car." She must produce her own ticket.

The monthly individual communication tickets will be void one second after midnight of the last day of the month. The return half of a return ticket must be used within thirty days after the date of sale.

New Method

SMALL TO GRAB SPONGE SQUAD FROM BRUNDAGE

Anti-Saloon League Will Back New Bill.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—Gov. Small and his political allies are preparing to reach out and take over the administration of the prohibition laws in Illinois. The support of the state administration of the Anti-Saloon league's demand for a $500,000 appropriation for law enforcement purposes has been made contingent on the transfer of the machinery from the hands of Attorney General Brundage to Gov. Small.

State Superintendent F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon league admitted a bill such as wanted by the administration is to be introduced. Such a move means a battle between the friends of Gov. Small and those of Attorney General Brundage.

Another Official Likely.

The administration bill is expected to provide for a state prohibition commissioner who will be appointed by the governor and will be in personal control of the force of deputies and field agents which will enforce the state search and seizure law and other dry measures.

"We would not oppose such a bill," Supt. McBride said. "It probably will be introduced and we may have to support it. Our present intention, however, is to do everything possible to aid and assist Attorney General Brundage."

There were rumors that an alliance has been made between Gov. Small and the Anti-Saloon league.

Utilities Board Approved.

The new state public utilities commission was confirmed this morning by the senate. The only member to arrive was Cicero J. Lindly, who was sworn in this afternoon. Mr. Lindly indicated that there would be no new policies announced by the commission until the full membership has taken office. No word had come from Congressmen Frank L. Smith at Washington, but the state house leaders appear to be confident that Col. Smith will accept the chairmanship.

Speaker Dahlberg had no committee to announce this morning except that on contingent expenses. Representative Arnold of Quincy was made chairman, with Abbey, Brinkman and Flagg, Republicans, and Fahy, Garesche and P. F. Smith, Democrats, as members. The only big chairmanship that is decided upon is agriculture, which goes to Representative Homer J. Tice of Greenview.

Would Straighten River.

The senate adopted this joint resolution already passed by the house providing for a joint commission of the states of Indiana and Illinois to consider straightening the Kankakee river and draining adjacent marsh land. Senator Burr introduced a bill carrying an appropriation of $2,250,000 for deficiency in the conduct of the state charitable institutions during the past biennium. Senator Dailey introduced a measure increasing the salaries of Supreme court judges to $15,000. Senator Jewel offered an amendment to the parole law making a person twice convicted of a felony ineligible to parole.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Operatives in the building trades at a meeting today rejected the government's proposal for "diluting" the building industry by the absorption of former service men to alleviate unemployment. CAPITAL SHIPS REMAIN CHIEF DEFENSE AT SEA

Experts Warn Against Experiments.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—The major ship remains the basis of sea power, and those who argue that the airplane and the submarine have supplanted it are asking the country to "accept hopes for accomplishments," the navy general board says in a report to Secretary Daniels made public today.

"The general board, having kept in touch with naval progress along all lines," the report says, "reiterates its belief in the battleships as forming the principal units of the fleet. Without them the United States cannot hope to cope with existing navies."

Opposes a "Naval Holiday."

The report, signed by Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, president, was approved by Secretary Daniels and was transmitted by him to the senate naval affairs committee for its information in considering pending disarmament and "naval holiday" resolutions.

Asserting that the guiding policy that had shaped the general board's construction recommendations since 1903 was that of eventually creating a navy equal to the strongest in the world, the board urges "no rest period or limitation of armaments" but agreed to by the United States that would modify the great naval building program of 1916, now under construction, in "modern, general types, or dates of completion."

Must Not Change Methods.
"The ships authorized in the 1916 program are thoroughly modern, the report says, adding that there is no reason to believe that developments in submarine or aerial warfare will seriously detract from their value for many years to come.

"It would be the height of unwisdom for any nation possessing sea power to pin its faith and change its practice upon mere theories as to the future developments of new and untried weapons," the report says, "but that fact does not relieve us of the necessity of developing to the utmost new weapons and inventions as rapidly as possible."

HOUSE TIES UP PURSE OF ARMY; 150,000 LIMIT

After July 1 Only That Many to Be Paid.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—A definite step toward reduction of the regular army to 150,000 men was taken today. The house approved an appropriation sufficient only for the maintenance of a force of that size during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

All amendments were beaten except that by Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, authorizing honorable discharge of those under 18 at their application or that of their parents or guardians.

The bill now carries $72,678,650 to pay enlisted men during the twelve months beginning July 1, only sufficient for 150,000, and the army now has about 230,000. Efforts to provide pay for 175,000 men lost, 45 to 15.

Before taking up the pay for enlisted men an effort to cut from $42,000,000 to $30,000,000 the pay for officers, effecting a reduction of about 5,000 in their number, was lost, 86 to 29.

Representative Mondel advocated the reduction to 150,000 to "realize the hopes of the American people."

Hamon Estate in Home State About $1,350,893 Net

Ardmore, Okla., Feb. 3.—The gross value of the Oklahoma estate of the late Jake L. Hamon is $3,343,993, with indebtedness of $1,750,570, J. E. Moore reported for the state today. The state is to collect a total inheritance tax of $42,440. Mrs. Hamon paying $14,100 on one-third and the share allotted to the children, Jake Jr. and Olive Belle, will be assessed $14,150 for each. Mrs. Hamon has an exemption of $10,000. These deductions, if there are no others, would indicate a net estate of $1,350,893 in Oklahoma.

BRADY BATTLES MOVE FOR STRICT FILM CENSOR LAW

Movie Magnate Demands
a "Square Deal."

Movie picture producers had their meeting yesterday before the council on censorship and at a hearing before the city council on the proposed ordinance to tighten up the city movie censorship ordinance. Their efforts were needless, however, as should the city council pass the proposed ordinance, Mayor Thompson is expected to veto it, according to one of his department heads who talked with him recently on the subject.

Takes It From Police.
The fact that the proposed measure recommended by the censorship commission, of which Attorney Timothy D. Hurley is chairman, would take the censorship question out of the jurisdiction of the police department is said to have aroused the mayor's ire.

"Movies have a direct bearing on crime and in connection with the mayor's decision to make Chief of Police Fitzmorris the "czar" of the police department, he has decided that the chief shall retain jurisdiction of the movie question," Tim Hurley's informant said.

Ready Appeals for Square Deal.
William A. Brady, theatrical producer and president of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, was the heavyweight witness before the censorship committee yesterday. The reception given him by the audience and the crowd which jammed the council chamber was taken as a sign that the proposed ordinance is doomed to many changes before it reaches the council floor.

"I'm here to ask for a square deal for the movie industry," Mr. Brady said. "If you pass this law you brand the United States as a lawbreaker."

Cites Patriotic Work.
"This industry which you propose to brand as a lawbreaker and a partner to business is the industry to which President Wilson appealed at the outbreak of the war to spread patriotic propaganda. It is the industry which Vice President Marshall commended on its war work."

Mr. Brady said he read letters to the effect that the industry was a lawbreaker and that the industry was a lawbreaker.

Some Plays Law Would Bar.
"The minutes tell you of Joan of Arc and her death at the stake. This ordinance would prohibit the picturing of that great episode, because it was murder."

"The same thing goes for 'Carmen' and many of Shakespeare's plays. They are taught in our schools, but they would be taboo on the screen under this ordinance."

Mr. Brady said he appeared before the commission which framed the proposed ordinance and referred to its personnel as "ten prosecuting attorneys."

"One commissioner insulted women of the stage and in doing so insulted my wife and daughter, who are women of the stage," Mr. Brady cried, shaking his finger under the noses of the censors.

Turns on a Minister.
The Rev. W. S. Fleming, a Methodist minister, arose to question Brady, who turned on him as follows:

"O, you are enthusiastic over putting John Barleycorn out of business and now you are turning your eye on us. Is 50 per cent. of the profits of the movie industry finally triumphant?"

In the midst of a tense and wordy debate, Attorney Hurley arose and shouted.

"Why don't you show clean pictures that a 12 year old girl should see?"

"Could you produce 'Romeo and Juliet' without a suicide?" Mr. Brady shot back.

Mr. Brady added that "there are things on the streets of Chicago that a 12 year old girl should see."

"Do you believe in Charlie Chaplin's foxy stunts?" asked Mr. Hurley, referring to Chaplin's picture, "The Kid."

"And that's the type of a man who objects to our present day movie—a man who objects to Chaplin," said Mr. Brady, indicating Hurley.

Fan Sets Hurley Straight.
Mr. Hurley attempted to detail the episode in "The Kid" to which he objected, but a movie fan in the gallery interrupted to declare that the attorney had "balled up the plot."

With Chairman Olsen pounding for order, Mr. Brady ended his speech by challenging the champions of stricter censorship to "go to the people on the question."

The committee also listened to speeches from James J. Walker, counsel for the national moving picture theaters' organization, and Sam Atkinson, business manager of the Allied Amusement association. Both opposed the Hurley plan.

At the next meeting, to be held Feb. 17, Chief of Police Fitzmorris will be heard. He is opposed to removing censorship from the jurisdiction of the police department and has repeatedly requested advocates of a "blue censorship" to state their grievances to him.

Mass Meeting Today.
A mass meeting protesting against the attacks of reformers on motion pictures and the stage during the last year will be held today in Washington hall, 19 West Adams street.

William A. Brady will preside. Speakers include Blanche Bates, William Hodges, Otis Skinner, Lowell Sherman, and Lenore Ulric.

Ten years of hard labor for six bucks sure sounds like low wages," remarked Sheridan when he heard the sentence.

ASKS 150,000 TO JOIN FIGHT FOR STATE RENT LAW

1,000 Tenants Urged to Get Action by May 1.

Declaring that he would call the greatest "strike" Chicago has ever seen in case the legislature fails to pass a rent law, a renter of Hyde Park and Woodlawn to their feet last night at a meeting in the Ray school at Kimbark avenue and Fifty-sixth street.

Loud applause greeted Mr. Jessurun as he wound up by calling for 150,000 tenants to back him up in his plan.

"If we don't get the kind of legislation we want by May 1, I am going to call the biggest strike Chicago has ever seen," shouted Jessurun. "All that is necessary is to have the tenants with me. If they are and the legislature does not act there will be 150,000 tenants who will tie up the town and the courts."

He launched into a plan for a thirty day intensive campaign in behalf of anti-rent profiteering legislation in Chicago.

Attacks 1921 Leases.
He also charged the Chicago Real Estate board with adding new indignities upon the tenants in the form of leases for the year beginning May 1.

"Not satisfied with putting in a jury waiver as they did last fall, the real estate men are putting in a clause giving the landlords a chattel mortgage on a tenant's furniture in case he fails to pay his rent on time," Mr. Jessurun said.

"We are working on evidence now which promises to give some of these real estate men one room apartments with bed and board free of charge."

While the tenants were in session, Aid. Guy Guernsey of the Seventh ward announced he would introduce a resolution in the city council meeting today which will enable the city to keep a strict check on all rent complaints handled by the arbitration committee of seven, which will be appointed today by L. M. Smith, president of the Chicago Real Estate board.

Mr. Smith has announced the committee will be given power to expel all members found guilty of profiteering.

Arrange to Handle Complaints.
The resolution will invite tenants to forward complaints to Commissioner of Public Service William H. Reid, and will direct him to forward them to the real estate board for investigation.

SALOON MAN'S SLAYER HELD.
Frank Petrak was ordered held to the grand jury yesterday by a coroner's jury on a charge of having slain Frank Arduini in his saloon at 1931 Canalport avenue on Jan. 28. Petrak is said to have killed his victim with a pocket knife.

Hunted by Whole Force.
Detectives and deputy sheriffs combed the city for the missing prisoner last night. An order to hold him was sent to police departments within a radius of 100 miles.

Sergel Loses Final Fight for Drainage Board Chief
Petition for a rehearing of the suit brought by Charles H. Sergel in an attempt to regain presidency of the sanitary district from William J. Houj was denied by the Supreme court yesterday. Sergel maintained he was elected for a term of six years. The presidency is now in litigation as to whether Healy or Lawrence F. King is entitled to the office.

WRATH OF FAR EAST SMOLDERS, EXPLOSION NEARS, TAGORE WARNS

Rabindranath Tagore, poet and philosopher of India, arrived in Chicago yesterday with a warning for western civilization.

The west, he maintains, has exploited the east, has taken and not given, but a change is coming.

"If the moral code is not sufficient to move the west," said the philosopher, who is the house guest of Mrs. William Vaughan Moody at 2970 Ellis avenue, "strategy and diplomacy should warn you of the necessity of a change in treatment. The fires are smoldering; indignation in the east is all the more acute because repressed. The explosion is coming, is inevitable, will come when least expected."

He also had a warning for modern women.

"If she persists in competing with men in every activity," he said, "the western world will become entirely masculine—a dull, deadly monotonous counting house, a factory, with little creative work and not much progress."

Woman's place is in the home. There she can give inspiration. "If women insist upon being men, they lose their prerogatives as women. That is only fair."

He is lecturing throughout the country, on "East and West." His pretty daughter-in-law Propina, resplendent in gay Bengalese costume, is with him.

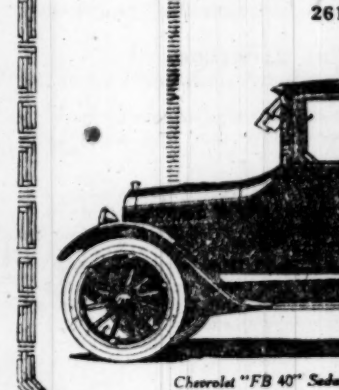

Action of Other Lines.
The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific expects to sell tourist tickets for about 80 per cent of the regular fare—or lower on long hauls.

The Chicago and Alton officials say they will have tourist rates, but will not fix the schedules until March. The Illinois Central will hold a meeting within a few days to act on summer rates. The Chicago and Northwestern also expects to take action within a month or two.

RAILROADS TO GIVE REDUCED TOURIST RATES

Cut Fares to the West
Are Planned.

The holiday public, as well as the homeseeker and convention delegate, will have reduced railroad fares again this summer. It was learned yesterday that practically all the great railroad lines running out of Chicago are contemplating substantial reductions in the price of tickets for tourists who desire to make extended trips to the national parks, the Grand canyon, and the coast.

The reduced rates will be in effect from June 1 to Sept. 30, and will be good any day and not, as in the case of homeseekers, on certain specified days each month.

25 Per Cent Off on C. B. & Q.
Claude E. Burnham, vice president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, says his road contemplates tourist rates for tourists which will average about 25 per cent of regular fares for trips to national parks and the coast.

Assistant General Passenger Agent Cannon of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul said that line's tourist rates will vary from about one and one-third times the regular one way fare for the round trip on long hauls to about one and one-half on short hauls.

The Chicago and Alton officials say they will have tourist rates, but will not fix the schedules until March. The Illinois Central will hold a meeting within a few days to act on summer rates. The Chicago and Northwestern also expects to take action within a month or two.

AFTER SANBORN'S JOB AND REPUTATION.

Mr. Hearst's morning newspaper says that it is Gov. Small's duty to see that the state tax commission functions "as energetically in the people's interests as it has hitherto done in the interests of wealthy tax dodgers."

It says that the commission has lifted large tax burdens from wealthy corporations and thereby transferred the same burdens to an army of small taxpayers. One of the commissioners, it is conceded, has a brilliant military record, but he must go because of what he has done for wealthy tax dodgers and against the people.

This man is Gen. Sanborn. There is only one meaning to the phrasing of the attack upon him. He is called a crook. Only a crook would add wealthy tax dodgers and put unjust burdens on the people.

It is the city hall slander against Sanborn. Hearst repeats it in his newspaper. Thompson, Lundin, Small, and Hearst are the defamers of a man who has devoted all his mature life to the unremunerative service of his state and his country.

They are not only going to take his job away from him. They are going to take his reputation. If they can, Lundin never will forgive him because he fought against Germany. That was unforgivable, and Lundin hates him the more for it because he was so notable an American soldier and did such notable work in fighting Germany and helping to defeat her.

The Chicago agencies which made it hard for Chicago men in the war intended to make it hard for them in peace. About the only thing Sanborn has accumulated in a life of service to the state is his reputation, and if Thompson, Lundin, Small, and Hearst can get that away from him he'll be naked.

It is not sufficient for them to say, directly even if brutally, that they intend to take this man's job and that they don't care a damn what he did in the war. That would be an honest sort of brutality, a candid calumny, but it would require some courage. There might be a little sentiment in the state against such a handling of so gallant a man as Sanborn. His long record of unassuming service in the national guard organization, in two wars, and in border service, and the distinguished honors he won when men his age look at it, it is notable if they can get around the golf links—all this might have aroused some feeling of resentment in the state against his enemies and detractors who played it safe in the war and are playing it profitably now.

Thompson, Lundin, Small, and Hearst rather than take this chance, or what they thought might be a chance, think it safer to take Sanborn's reputation first and then his job. They say he did things which only a crook would do and that he must be fired because he did them.

Small's pledges to the state require him, out of a sense of duty, to remove Sanborn for the public good. Illinois politicians have been pretty deep in the mud before, but this is the first time they ever touched rock bottom under the mud. This is the bottom of the supposedly bottomless pit. Lundin, who never will forgive a man for fighting Germany and fighting well, will be able to grin and say, "Good, that's one gone!"

THE DECISION IN THE BERGER CASE.

The decision of the federal Supreme court regarding Victor Berger et al. for retrial should be understood or unfortunate and erroneous inferences will be drawn.

First, the court did not hold that Judge Landis was prejudiced or that Berger suffered by Judge Landis' conduct of the trial.

The majority of the court held merely that the application for change of venue should have been granted—not on the ground that Judge Landis was prejudiced, but on the ground that where an affidavit of prejudice is filed the court should lean toward the defendant. "We are of opinion," says Justice McKenna, "that an affidavit on information and belief satisfies the section and that upon its filing, if it shows the objectionable inclination or disposition of the judge, which we have said is an essential condition, it is his duty to 'proceed no further' in the case."

This is a rule of expediency, and Justice McKenna, discussing it from the viewpoint of its general effect, says: "And in this there is no serious detriment to the administration of justice nor inconvenience worthy of mention, for of what concern is it to a judge to preside in a particular case, of what concern to other parties to have him so preside? And any serious delay of trial is avoided by the requirement that the affidavit must be filed not less than ten days before the commencement of the term."

But Justice McKenna, dissenting, puts his view with some force: "Of course, no judge should preside if he entertains actual personal prejudice toward any party. Intense dislike of a class does not render the judge incapable of administering complete justice to one of its members. A public officer who entertained no aversion toward disloyal German immigrants during the late war was simply unfit for his place. And, while an overbearing judge is no well-tuned cymbal, neither is an amorphous dummy untuned by human emotions a becoming receptacle for judicial power."

Which of these two views appears the wiser rule in the long run is fairly arguable. In time of war or public danger we think most of us would incline to that of Justice McKenna, for in such circumstances to lean toward the individual may be costly to high interests for which many men are freely making the extreme sacrifice. We may concede that in the ordinary ways of peace all doubts should be resolved in favor of the jealous protection of the individual. In war, when thousands are suffering and dying for the common cause, our jealous concern should be for their utmost support, for that unwavering unity which is their unquestionable due and essential need.

This brings us back to the question of Berger and his codefendants. Although they profit by the decision upon a technicality of procedure they have been in no sense vindicated or relieved from the just odium their conduct during the war procured for them. The trial before Judge Landis, in our observation, was more than just to them, was liberal in its admission of all proper or plausible defense. They are to be tried again before another judge, but we trust that no slump in public morale will assist them to escape stern justice.

The temper of Berger and his quality as a citizen are well illustrated in the clasp charge he repeats as comment on the decision of the Supreme court, which he says is "the first real sign of returning sanity in our ruling class." His sneer that his prosecution was a "conspiracy of payrollers" shows the brand of man he is and what his influence was during the days when our soldiers were fighting and dying for the country. What Berger and his like dared to do to stab America in the back when it was fighting the foe they did, and it will be a gross failure of justice if they escape unhurt through meshes of the law or a bog of public reaction.

BATTLES VS. BOOKKEEPING.

Gen. Dawes told a congressional committee inquiring into war expenditures that congress and the government had better look to the reform of existing government methods rather than spend time inquiring whether there was extravagance in supply purchases during the war.

The advice is sound. What the country wants is a saving of money yet unspent, economy on present expenditures, not a lot of pitting and squabbling over the price paid for artillery horses in 1918. That water, as Gen. Dawes said, has gone over the dam. What we are interested in now is the present and the future and how to lighten the burden already on our shoulders.

Gen. Dawes expressed views on the subject of post-war inquiries which every sensible person must endorse. No doubt high prices were paid during war time by the men responsible for supplying the army. War is extravagance. War is waste. It is not a matter of bookkeeping. The red line in war's ledger is blood.

Did Gen. Dawes or any other purchasing official pay too much for artillery horses, needed to draw our guns to the front to cover our infantry when they went to the attack? He did not and he could not. When men are fighting at the front there is no price too high for the things they must have if that price is necessary to get them.

Post-war criticism is of two kinds: Constructive criticism aimed at improving methods so that if need arise better results will be obtained; destructive criticism fomented for political or personal purposes. The American people may be tired of the war. We think they are; at least too tired to be interested in inquiries by men who were 3,000 miles from the fighting into the prices paid in Europe for the urgent requirements of our fighting men. The Americans had to take what they could get in depleted Europe to save tonnage needed for carrying men.

The success of Gen. Dawes and his assistants was one of the most remarkable achievements of the war and an important factor in our contribution to victory. And it was a success because the principle which ruled was, "What the fighting front needs it shall have." No other principle is justifiable in war. No other policy would be tolerated by the American people, for when our men are offering their lives for their country the value of money disappears.

We do not imply that money was wasted, that it was spent unnecessarily. On the contrary, the conduct of our affairs in Europe will compare, we believe, favorably with that of any of the allied armies, considering the tremendous difficulties under which we labored. But what THE TRIBUNE would emphasize is that peace standards cannot be applied to the emergencies of war simply because the war is over.

What the American people want now is not post-mortems but a reform of government business methods which will save us from waste and inefficiency in times of peace.

Editorial of the Day

THE DENISE OF CAPT. STREETER.

[Detroit Free Press.]

George Wellington Streeter, whose death is announced from Chicago, was a Michigan man, born in Washtenaw county, and once commander of the "Good Ship" Marine City. He is not widely known by his full name as he given, but as Capt. Streeter of the "District of Lake Michigan" his fame reaches from sea to sea, and a wide circle of disinterested observers will learn of his demise with regret, for he was an original, amusing, and picturesque figure in the life of Chicago.

As every one knows, the "District of Lake Michigan" was a tract of land that formed the Chicago shore of Lake Michigan when the captain's ancient craft ran around and made a bulwark against drifting sand accumulated. Slow accretion resulted in the formation of almost 200 acres, which the captain claimed as his own by right of discovery. It was, he argued, no part of the state of Illinois and no part of the public domain shown on any map. Therefore he claimed the right to proclaim himself ruler by any land, to set up a government of his own and do as he would with his possessions.

If any one supposes that his fantastic dominion was the product of a deranged mind, let him consider that the captain held more than his own for years, made money out of the venture, and took such shrewd advantage of the doubts in the case that even to this day the title to the "district" is in litigation. Still there was never any doubt about the law in the case as it applied to the captain. He certainly had no real claim, for where land forms along a shore by natural causes the universal rule is that the new land belongs to the owner of the shore, and the justice of this rule is evident, for otherwise a foot or so of new land along a water front might be seized by any tramp and used to bar the owner of water front property from building wharves or otherwise using the land in connection with the water. At the same time the claimant of the new land would have no use for it, for he would have no approach to it except from the water side.

But the fact that the law was against the captain only increases evidence of his resourcefulness and admiration for the audacity of his defiance, which held at bay courts and capitalists, policemen, bailiffs, soldiers, and constables without end. Of late years he has, like the autocrats of Europe, ruled only a shadow kingdom from an exiled throne, but he did not give up until the conqueror of all men carried him away.

A TOAST.

Although Victor Berger
May quaff the sweet elixir
Of vindication,
And that redoubtable patriot
Kenesaw Mountain Landis
May drain the bitter dregs
Of implied reproach,
And those headstrong enthusiasts
Who made that impolitic attempt
To drag Grover Bergdoll back
From the drear old Fatherland
Are to be roundly censured,
And prominent ladies
Of Chicago

Of benevolence
For the suffering professors
Of the KULTUR incubators.
We gain some solace
From that old timer
Who refuses to conform
To the programme of the vote-hounds.
And who refuses to apostrophize
Our army, its accomplishments, or its allies,
And who does not give
One good hot damn
What he says,
Nor what he does.
Here's to you, Charlie Dawes!
Give 'em the other barrel!

M. J. B.

THERE is a toast that many of us will be glad to drink. Nothing in a blue moon has given us so much pleasure as the artistic bowling out that Gen. Dawes gave his critics.

"I AM a cub reporter," writes W. H. D., "and am going to conduct a column in a few weeks. I think, 'Zazzo? Well, you can't do better than to start with the announcement that Pals & Puls are dentists in Shelbygan. And you might add that if the second Puls is a son the firm should be Puls & Pils."

OH VERY WELL!

[From the Kewanee Star-Courier.]
Notice—I have been getting numerous calls for nursing. I wish not to be called as my health does not permit me to do so. Especially I have two canaries and house flowers to care for. I may when weather gets warmer take a few cases with me.

"SINCE Frank Harris has been mentioned," communicates C. E. L., "it would be interesting to a lot of folks to know just what standing he has in literature." Oh, not much. Aside from being one of the best editors of the Saturday Review ever had, one of the best writers of short stories in English or any other language, and one of the most acute critics in the profession, his standing is negligible.

A MONTVIDEUS COMPARISON.
[From the Montevideo, Minn., American.]
In Albert Lea, the other day, a man was shot dead when found with another man's wife. If this practice were strictly adhered to in Montevideo the undertakers would be rushed to death.

WHEN Galworthy (or it may have been Walpole) was visiting here, he lunched with a number of the university faculty. When the cigars were passed the guest was the only man who took one. "Don't the rest of you smoke?" he inquired. "Well," replied one prof, indicating the geologist, "Sulbury can."

THE BACHELOR.

I know a bachelor whom I alternately want to pet and scold.

When he was in college he wanted to marry. But the girl couldn't love him, and married the son of a young people.

So for many years he lived apart, and hated all women, and scoffed at marriage. And was comfortable and selfish and particular. And was the poor devil who were tied by the neck.

But it was a luxury, and it cost him something. He is fifty now, and he has that unanchored look. His skin is yellow, because nobody plans his meals. He has ceased to dress well, and doesn't know it. There is no one to say to him, "Say, dear, you need a new suit."

You look like a tramp.

He sees all the best shows, and goes to lectures and concerts.

But he has never seen a circus with a child. He has peace and quiet in his home when he wants it.

But he has a kind of horror of Christmas time. He has never seen a woman, and he is alone. And when he dies his light will be extinguished.

And when I see him I want to scold him and pet him.

And darn his socks for him, and cook him a dinner. And do everything nice for him that I can.

WHETHER the ground hog saw his shadow or not did not appear to depend on whether he rose early or late. If he had his breakfast in bed and sauntered forth in the afternoon, he may have seen his shadow, but if he keeps ordinary business hours he came out into a gray day.

My distance from shoulder to elbow and wrist,

THE edict against withdrawing liquor from warehouses reminds us that, B. P., it was estimated by Old Charlie Hermann that there were 200,000,000 gallons of whiskey in government warehouses. Considering the amount seized, stolen, destroyed, and consumed since that time, you would suppose that the stock was well high exhausted.

THE NEW SWIMMING HOLE.

MOST of the rules for swimming pools relate to the care given the pool itself. Below are some of the rules which the children who use the school pools in New York City must follow:

The swimming period is forty minutes, including time for dressing and undressing. In the days of the old swimming hole a session lasted at least three hours and it took forty minutes to untie the knots in one's clothes.

To avoid drowning and sudden death from what is erroneously called cramps, each child is examined for heart disease before being sent to the pool. I dare say there are very few children with heart disease who need to be kept away from the swimming pool.

For sanitary reasons pupils in street dress must keep out of the pool inclosure.

Each pupil must attend to his toilet, take a shower bath (with soap) and pass inspection before entering the pool. Pools that are dirty, who have sores, recent vaccinations, cough or cold, eye or ear trouble, or who show any other signs of illness, must be excluded from the pool.

Girls will wear a plain, close fitting rubber cap and a gray, one-piece swimming suit of fast color.

Guard against accidents, running, playing tag, and pushing are prohibited. Expecting in the pool or adjacent floors is prohibited and is cause for expulsion.

Appropriate signs embodying these rules must be posted prominently.

The teacher must see that every pupil goes to the toilet and takes a thorough shower before entering the pool. Inclosures, after the shower the teacher must inspect the pupils before giving permission to enter the water.

Hygienic inspection—evidence of acute illness, infectious or contagious diseases should exclude pupil at once.

Body should be clean, particularly the folds.

Body should be free of any kind of cut, rash, eruption, or discharge.

Head and scalp should be clean and free from nits and lice.

While all these rules are proper and the laws of hygiene and sanitation should be strictly followed by all who use pools the reasons for them relate to decency, sanitation, and high standards more than to health. So far as we have evidence, very little contagion is spread by swimming pools. An occasional case of typhoid fever, a few infections of the eyes and ears and a few skin infections and the list is complete. The number of cases of typhoid known to have been thus caused during the last ten years is very small.

Now is the time to learn fancy swimming stunts for next summer's use. To strut them one must work now.

FEED BABY LESS.

Mrs. H. S. writes: "I. My baby in three months old and weighs 15 1/2 pounds, measures 28 inches. He weighed almost 7 pounds at birth. I am feeding him for 15 minutes every four hours. He cries very little and appears to feed fine. I was told he should have only from one to three. I am regular in his care. I was told he should have only from one to three. I am regular in his care. I was told he should have only from one to three. I am regular in his care."

WHOLE WHEAT COOKIES.

Mrs. J. W. B. sends us this recipe: 2 cups whole wheat flour. 2 cups bran. 4 tablespoons of sugar. 1/4 cup of molasses. 1/2 cup sweet milk. 1 teaspoon salt. 1 level teaspoon soda. 2 level tablespoons of lard. Dissolve soda in one-half cup of warm water.

Mix flour, bran, sugar and salt well, then stir in the sweet milk, then the molasses. Melt the lard in the pan and the cookies are to be baked in and add after the molasses, leaving enough in the pan to grease. Add soda dissolved in warm water last. Mix all well and drop with a tablespoon in the greased pan and bake in a moderate oven.

RINSE WELL AFTER BATH.

Mrs. T. R. writes: "Every year some one asks you for a remedy for winter itch. I wish to contribute mine, which is very simple. I have never had it since using this remedy. When taking baths I always rise myself afterwards with clean, warm water, for I discovered that it was the soap particles that dried my skin and made it itch. A shower is the best thing, of course, but those who cannot have a shower can use a pan."

SEND STAMPED ENVELOPE.

If Miss S. S. S. will send her request accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope I will answer her questions. They are not suited to the column.

MAY ELECT CITIZENSHIP.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Does a woman who has married an American citizen retain the rights of her American citizenship after her husband's death? I am a foreign born woman and have had considerable argument on this question.

M. A.

A foreign born woman who marries an American citizen, this becoming an American citizen herself, may retain her American citizenship after the death of her husband. Or she may revert to her former citizenship. This is a matter of election on her part.

Chief Naturalization Examiner.

FRAUDULENT ENLISTMENT.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My son who is a Canadian citizen, served for eighteen months in the U. S. R. F. of the United States in the war. At the time of his enlistment he swore he was an American citizen. Can he be punished for this? Are his parents liable for punishment?

W. J.

From facts stated in your letter we cannot answer definitely. If the boy enlisted in the naval reserve, it was for four years, and we conclude that he is still in the service. Should the facts become known to the authorities he would be given discharge for fraudulent enlistment.

As soon as he attains his majority we advise that he apply for naturalization.

BERGDOLE GETS US IN BAD.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your publications are not consistent. In one editorial you say to this effect: "It is well that Bergdoll, the conscientious objector, is in Germany. We are rid of him. It is a good thing that his abduction failed." Now only a day or so later you are filling long columns about how he should be extradited.

It is another case of the fox and the grapes. If the United States were justified in demanding the surrender of Bergdoll, then Germany and all European countries would be justified in demanding the return of thousands in the United States who escaped from European military service.

FOR BETTER POSTAL SERVICE.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Representative Madden of Illinois has introduced a bill to grant classified civil service employees, whose removal is sought, an opportunity for a hearing before the civil service commission.

If this bill goes through and becomes law it will be a blessing to all postal employees and the end of automatic rule which now reigns throughout the service. The following statement will throw some light on the present system:

One morning while the mechanic in charge of the motor room in the motor vehicle service at Chicago was about to punch his time card he was informed by the assistant chief mechanic that he was suspended and instructed to leave and not to talk to any other employee. No explanation was given. The mechanic was informed that the only explanation necessary would be forwarded to his boss. About fourteen days later the mechanic received a letter with the charges

JOBS SCARCE, BUT BIG PLANTS WORK MEN LONG HOURS

Situation Better Handled in Europe than Here.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

The hard build of the man, here, is a thing that appears rather queer. In the face of a large volume of unemployment, some American industries of size are lengthening the hours of work or are sticking to the two-shift system, a stone age remnant, while in some other large industrial countries the trend is towards a shortening of hours.

The International Labor office at Geneva has just reported a movement among the metal workers in France for a larger volume in settling hours, wages and working conditions, and one of the leading demands is "during a period of unemployment, the management should agree to measures to alleviate distress by means of rosters, shortening hours of labor, etc."

In Great Britain where the unemployment situation is becoming more serious, the government has recommended employers to institute, as far as practicable, the system of shortening hours of work.

Government to Follow Plan.

Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade, has written to employers' organizations and the industrial council endorsing this principle and announcing that the government itself will follow it in the dock yards and other naval establishments.

From Italy come similar reports. Also from Belgium, Denmark and Spain, that to combat unemployment, work is being spread over more workers by cutting down the length of the working day.

In Canada, too, private employers have been urged by the government to reduce hours of work rather than reduce the working staff, and many have adopted the policy.

Most of these hour cuts abroad, too, are reductions from an existing eight hour basis. In the United States, although many industries for months have been keeping their forces as in fact as possible by giving part time employment to as many as possible, other industries are moving in an opposite direction.

Twelve Hour Day for Steel Men.

In steel, for instance, some of the independents are reopening on a two shift basis where they formerly had three shifts—the working day thus is stretched from eight hours to twelve hours. The Steel corporation itself is still adhering to the two shift system, although the present unemployment gives it the best opportunity it has to break away from the twelve and fourteen hour day and install the eight hour day, which is the vogue in nearly every other large producing country.

All in all, it is a disturbing trend as viewed by labor, which sees in it a resurgence from the eight hour day movement. Conservative labor leaders say it demonstrates a desire by some large employers to keep the supply of labor in relation to jobs as high as possible.

Linked with Immigration Ban.

They link it up with the fight against restriction of immigration, and the estimates from some employing groups that the United States is short between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 workers as a result of suspended immigration during the war.

Here again labor draws an argument from the experience of Canada, which for more than two years has been experimenting with a governmental employment service. Before the armistice the dominion took up reconstruction problems. In June, 1918, every person over 16 living in Canada was required to register, showing age, nationality, occupation, etc. The federal labor department was authorized to establish an employment service in cooperation with the provincial authorities. Some ninety employment offices were opened, and in fifteen months 600,000 persons were placed in positions.

LOUIS J. JACQUES.

MISS HAZEL DEWEY RICE, pretty stenographer, committed suicide by swallowing poison on Jan. 23, a coroner's jury decided yesterday. The jury was unable to ascribe a motive.

Louis James Jacques of 6414 Kenwood avenue, a sugar salesman, whose love letters to the girl were found after her death, told the jury there was nothing in his relations with the girl that would make her dependent. "Although I never had proposed marriage to her, she knew I loved her," he said.

He was cleared of any blame in connection with the death.

WILSON CALLS SPECIAL SESSION HARDING ASKED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—President Wilson, acting on the recently communicated request of President-elect Harding, today issued a proclamation calling a special session of the senate to convene March 4, to act on cabinet and other appointments.

The president in his proclamation said: "Whereas, public interest requires that the senate of the United States be convened at 12 o'clock on the fourth day of March next, to receive such communications as may be made by the executive."

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary occasion requires the senate of the United States to convene at the capitol, in the District of Columbia, on the fourth day of March next, at 12 o'clock noon, of which all persons who shall at that time be entitled to act as members of that body are hereby requested to take notice."

196 HUSBANDS IN CHICAGO CRUEL;
ALSO 109 WIVES

Are Chicago husbands more cruel than wives? Statistics submitted yesterday at the annual meeting of the Illinois Humane society show that 196 husbands and 109 wives were cruel against their husbands during 1920 and that 109 husbands registered objections against their wives.

Action against 39 wife beaters was taken by the society during the year. Nonsupport was the cause of domestic trouble in 196 cases. Twelve cruel cases were in families where the husbands were interested in soulmates; wives so involved were 10. Mamma-in-laws caused 7 cases of cruelty.

Acts of cruelty to children included 174 beatings, 1 case of burning and scalding, 1 of biting, 1 of tying a baby to a bed, and 14 of overworking.

There were 84,324 complaints concerning cattle, sheep, and hogs; complaints in behalf of horses were 7,531.

AUTO MEN FIND THEIR CAR MUST PLEASE WOMEN

Wives at Show Prove They Know About Machines.

BY MORROW KRUM.

The number of women attending the automobile show, the ever increasing popularity of the closed car, and the fact many male motor fans refuse to sign a check until they consult their wives, these facts and others are tending to convince the builders of American automobiles that woman and her tastes must be catered to more than ever in the future.

Several demonstrations of women's power were seen yesterday in the Coliseum, the Coliseum annex, the First Regiment armory, and the salon at the Drake hotel.

A woman stepped up to a booth where a medium priced car was being exhibited. The salesman conducted her to a touring car.

Demands All Year Car.

"No," she said, "I want to see your sedan." She was emphatic. She wanted an all year car. She wanted a car with fashionable upholstery. In fact, she told the salesman about a neighbor who owned a "robin's egg blue" coupe with seat cushions that were six inches deep.

"I must have something better than that," she said. Another woman raised the hood of an eight cylinder V-type car. "Ah, set at 60 degrees," she said. "Overhead valves and camshafts, cam shaft driven by spiral bevel gears, eh? I like that—chains make so much noise. What's the wheelbase of this car?"

She may have been an exception—probably was—but many of the women of America know what should be under the hood of an automobile.

Must Consult Wife, He Says.

A man stood in a booth where a high priced limousine was on display. "I like it," he said. "I will probably buy it. But I must find out what the other half of the family thinks about that interior."

Another evidence of the power of women was seen at the salon in the Drake. All evening long the exhibition showing the higher priced cars was crowded with women.

The industrious assistant manager of the big show asserted last night that every car in the exposition had been sold. The statement may be true. It was impossible to find a salesman who would admit otherwise.

It was also "officially" announced that Wednesday's crowd exceeded by 12 per cent any one day crowd that ever attended a national automobile show either in New York or Chicago. Yesterday's attendance was also large. The show will close tomorrow night at 10:30 o'clock. The automobile men believe the business will have been completely rehabilitated.

WILD GEESSE ARE WITH US.

Spring has come. Mrs. Emil Olsen yesterday saw a flock of wild geese from the porch of her home at 1926 Summerdale avenue. The flock, about 100 strong, was flying northeast.

AUTO SHOW NOTES

Almost every local distributor in Chicago has given a luncheon or banquet to out-of-town dealers this week.

The reports that went out regarding our financial straits have by this time been entirely wiped out," said C. B. Wilson, vice president of the Willys-Overland company, at a Willys-Knight and Overland luncheon yesterday. "Another man with another company now has the spot light. We are going to make money this year. I believe most of the companies will."

C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motor company, was a visitor at the show yesterday.

J. F. Davis, manager of the Winton branch in this city, reports his car is "going big" in the salon.

A shortage of cars in the spring was predicted by C. S. Riemann, president of the Elgin Motor Car company, at a dealers' luncheon yesterday.

Two hundred dealers attended the Studebaker banquet in the Blackstone last night. They were told the South Bend company is doing more business than any exhibitor in the show. "And we can prove it," said H. A. Biggs, vice president.

Maj. Rudolph Schroeder, aviator holding the world's altitude record, is exhibiting a "flow meter" which tells how much gasoline an automobile consumes.

KNOCKS AT ARMY DAMNED SHAME, DAWES ASSERTS

"Too Many Pinheads Get Ear of Congress."

section. Let me tell you this—the doughboys will live to see the day when they will be proud that they served under him."

Gen. Dawes recommended centralized authority and responsibility in the army in peace time and coordinated work between the army and the navy departments. He declared that the army was deteriorating into a bureaucracy which will prove inefficient. "Congress is largely responsible," he declared, "because you listen to every whippersnapper bureau head who comes running to you with his tale of woe. The next war will break out overnight and the army and the navy will get into a row as to which is to boss the affair."

"Don't Call Me General." He said that American aviators in France were the best in the world, even if they did not have any planes. He thought the United States aviation program had been a terrible failure because of inexperience and overconfidence.

"Don't call me general," said Dawes as he ripped into the awards of the distinguished service medals. "I am not of the army. Those medals were the greatest mistake of the war and they played hell with the service. It was a new toy and the man wearing one on his chest wanted to lord it over some poor devil who deserved it but couldn't get it because not eligible, as congress limited the award to men in high positions of responsibility."

He characterized as "rotten" the system of promotion for men higher up "but which would not permit us to promote a private or a sergeant who had saved in the mud because the department wanted to save a little salary."

"Disgraceful Cheeseparing!"

Gen. Pershing wanted to promote them, but those in authority would not permit it. The result was that thousands of deserving men came home with broken hearts. That ruling was largely responsible for the unpopularity of the army among the men who served, brought about by a disgraceful attempt at cheeseparing when millions of dollars had been wasted."

Gen. Dawes alluded to a number of abortive attempts, one under Cleveland and the other under Taft, to reorganize the government, coordinate activities and save money.

"Everybody was for economy when the Cleveland commission came along, but nobody wanted his expenses cut," he said. "What was the Cleveland commission? Nothing but a commission to show you how you could reorganize this government and save money. But the department heads and the bureau chiefs were jealous of their prerogatives and did not want to disturb the status quo of a hundred years and they beat it, and they will beat it now unless the president in the first six months of his administration can slash those expenses which are now prostrating the business of the country."

Aircraft Game New.

"The aircraft was an entirely new game to us," Gen. Dawes said, discussing the failure to get airplanes to the A. E. F. "We started out to brag about it, and we came to the same end that a man usually does when he starts out that way. It was a new game, and we spent $600,000,000 and have nothing to show for it. It is like a fellow who starts a department store overnight with no ability and no experience."

"He will fall, I assure the world. And that is the reason we failed."

OLD FAITHFUL

For 24 Years He Has Delivered Tribune "Funnies" to Red Wing, Minn., Woman and Her Children.

One Sunday morning twenty-four years ago "Uncle Ned" Price, one of the oldtime porters on the Pioneer Limited of the St. Paul road, traveling between Chicago and Minneapolis, was reading the comic section of The Tribune.

LEVIN G. PRICE.

USE in a seat near the end of a sleeping car when a little girl approached him and asked permission to look at the pictures.

"Uncle Ned" gave the "funnies" to the little girl and when she left the train at Red Wing, Minn., her home town, promised to throw the comic supplement off the train to her every Sunday morning. He has kept his promise all these years and is now making free delivery of the "funnies" to the children of the little girl who was twenty-four years ago.

He says he has not missed this weekly ceremony a single time and looks forward with pleasure each Sunday morning to meeting the children.

Now, there were a lot of things done, and all that, and we can go around and bespatter a man and raise a hullabaloo because he had some stock in a corporation building machines, but that will not get us anywhere.

"It was a terrible failure—the buying of the spruce forests and all that sort of thing was one of the mistakes the American sometimes makes, born of overconfidence and inexperience."

French and English Fair.

"Had it not been for the fairness of the French and English in allocating to us the number of airplanes they did, we would have lost thousands more soldiers," Representative Johnson suggested.

"Yes. They were fair in everything," Gen. Dawes replied. "The record of the sacrifice of France for the American army can never be told. What did we have? Practically nothing but men and food. Our army shot only French ammunition, carried into action chiefly by French horses fed on French hay and fed 50 per cent more hay than were the horses used by the French army. And the men were transported in a British fleet. But we had the men. And for the material we got we spent only $1,024,000,000 out of the $17,000,000,000 that the war cost."

"As a matter of fact, that $24,000,000,000 would all have been wasted had it not been for the efficiency over there," Representative Johnson commented.

"If you assumed it, we wanted to load responsibility on you," said Representative Flood.

"Nobody Interested Now."

"There is nobody interested in this war now," Gen. Dawes replied. "You put Douglas Fairbanks and Fatty Arbuckle and Mary Pickford on the south side in Chicago, and you put Gen. Pershing and the army on the north side, and everybody, including the committee, will be on the south side. There is no news in it any more."

"As a matter of fact, nobody is taking any interest in it except the committee," Johnson said.

"If I was not standing around here swearing, there would not be any interest in this," said Dawes, banging the table. "But if you create the impression that the American army was rotten, and was not doing all it could, that is not the way to get them to follow a good example. It is one thing to be saying the example should be followed and another thing to throw mud. I do not say you are throwing mud—I do not want to be personal—but you cannot put a price on the army that will compare with its accomplishments."

"Not combating your opinion," Johnson replied. "I would say that the opinion of the people of the United States with reference to the army is not made by congress or by the president, but if there is any sentiment for or against it, it has been made by the personal experiences of the four and a half million men who composed that army. They have gone back to their homes and given the impression of what it is. You cannot change any man's opinion, from the private to the general. You cannot change yours, or mine."

His Father's View of Grant.

"Let me tell you what private impressions amount to," Gen. Dawes broke in. "My father fought at the head of the Iron Brigade in the civil war, and lost a great many of his men. We have his letters at home when he was in the heat of the campaign, and he talked about 'Grant the butcher,' because he was 'beating men he had fought with for two years. He was very critical of Grant in all of his letters. Grant was winning his fame at that time. And it was my father's proudest boast afterwards that he had fought under Grant. And Bullard told me the same thing—that when these men get the proper perspective it will be their proudest boast that they fought under Pershing."

"But it may affect preparedness," said Johnson.

"Away with temporary impressions," Gen. Dawes shouted. "We are going to get the permanent lessons out of this war. I have been called down by the regular army officers who were very angry, and who complained bitterly, but I am not going to blacken my record in the army because I got called down once."

About Pershing's Inspections.

"I used to march through a good many of these divisions on inspections with Gen. Pershing. He would take a doughboy out and look at his shoes, and he would say, 'How about this army? If they all did like that?' He did that one time to a young nephew of mine who had marched in through the mud for five miles and had stood in line at attention for an hour and a half. It was unjust."

"But the general—there never was a man more popular with the men than he, because I have seen him in contact with his men—he had to create in that army the impression that in the matter of discipline and efficiency and conditions nothing would satisfy him except the best."

"Supposing he told the doughboys, 'You are going to run our country when you get back home, and all that sort of tommyrot, for the sake of becoming popular, he would not have had an army.'"

"We had men over there who, when they commenced to work the doughboys on the roads, complained that it was a perversion of discipline. They didn't monkey with Pershing. They worked on the roads, to fulfill our obligations to France. What does he care?"

"As time goes on his record is their record; it is your record; the record of efficiency in the performance of duty."

Gen. Dawes did not want credit for proposing cancellation of contracts immediately after the armistice, but finally admitted ordering the cancellations.

BILL TO CONTROL MEAT PACKERS IS THROWN OUT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—(Special.)—Packer legislation is doomed in the present session. The house committee on agriculture rejected today the bill as passed by the senate and substituted for it an entirely different measure.

The action of the committee means that in case of the passage of the bill by the house the legislation will be thrown into conference. A one man filibuster can prevent action on the conference report in the senate in the closing days of the session, while friends of the senate bill hoped for enactment before March 4.

The substitute bill offered today was drafted by a house subcommittee last spring, after hearings. The senate bill's creation of a live stock commission the house bill changes by giving jurisdiction to the secretary of agriculture and the interstate commerce commission. The substitute would give the secretary power of enforcement with respect to the packers and the interstate commerce commission control over rates and regulations of stock yards. The house bill is considered less drastic than the senate measure.

Hold Four as Auto Thieves After Chase in Winnetka

Four men were captured in a stolen automobile in Winnetka yesterday after a chase through several north shore towns. The men gave the names of John A. McQuale, 4559 Prairie avenue; Dan P. McCarthy, 548 East Fifty-sixth street; Joseph M. Dougherty, 218 East Fifty-sixth street, and Henry W. Elgand, 4748 Calumet avenue. They are said to have taken the automobile of Joseph A. Collins, 707 Cable street, Kenosha.

FREE MAN WHO SOUGHT $400 FOR "FUNERAL BILL"

Edwin Grabehelmer, who wired his mother, Mrs. Euphemia Grabehelmer of New Orleans, that he was dead, in an effort to obtain $400 to pay his wife's hospital bills, was released from the detective bureau last night. Mrs. Grabehelmer, who said she would prosecute, evidently relented. A telegram from H. Grabehelmer & Sons, Inc., wholesale grocers and importers at New Orleans, read: "We have no personal interest in the prosecution of Edwin Grabehelmer."

As there was no evidence here on which the police could hold him, the young man was released.

"I expect to come into $100,000 some day and, believe me, I am not going to try any more foolish stunts," he said. "This has taught me a lesson. When I do get that money I'll hang on to it."

BLAKE'S FATHER STARTS INQUIRY INTO HIS DEATH

Charging that his son, William M. "Ginger" Blake, an ex-soldier who died Tuesday morning in an Atlanta hospital, was the victim of government "red tape," James A. Blake, 521 West Twenty-sixth street, is preparing to demand a thorough investigation. The younger Blake, who was 36 years old, had just been removed from Georgia jail. He was to have been sent to the United States court yesterday on charges of sending obscene letters through the mails. The charges were made by the parents of a young Atlanta woman with whom Blake had been friendly while stationed at Camp Sherman through crossed telephone wires. He wrote to her and went to her. She was sticking by him when he was in jail and three days before his death she telephoned his attorney.

John S. McClelland, that his condition was serious. Blames Prison Physician. McClelland visited United States Attorney Hooper Alexander and had him write to Prison Physician J. W. Hurt, whom McClelland accuses of negligence in regard to Blake's death. On Monday McClelland's private physician secured an order from Federal Judge Grubb for the Chicagoan's removal to a private sanitarium, where he died. Dr. Hurt denies negligence and says Blake died from a sudden attack of Bright's disease.

Misunderstanding Over Bonds. It was through a misunderstanding about bail that Blake remained in the jail awaiting trial.

Young Blake became well known in Chicago several years ago, when, after the closing up of the old levee district, he organized several business men's organizations and tried to start an agitation for "segregated districts." He gained the name "Ginger" after a soft drink which he concocted and sold.

He will be buried today.

MOTHER SEEKS LONG MISSING SONS. Fifteen years ago Matthew and Stephen Posawinski, only sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wladyslaw Posawinski, disappeared. The father died last week. DR. WARD FIGHTS BILLS THAT AIM AT YELLOWSTONE

Some of the spirit of indignation that has been spreading through the country against the "spoliation" of Yellowstone park reached Chicago yesterday.

Dr. Henry B. Ward, head of the department of zoology of the University of Illinois, a lover of the national parks, addressed the Kiwanis club on the subject.

Tells of Dangerous Bills. He described two bills now pending at Washington—one that would grant $8,000 acres of the park to private interests in Idaho for irrigation purposes, and a second that would permit certain Montana interests to dam the Yellowstone river and use Yellowstone lake as a huge storage reservoir.

Unless there is more general interest aroused," said Dr. Ward, "there is a grave possibility that this legislation will be passed in the same way that the water power act—including the slipped-in words "in the national parks"—was passed by both houses last year and was held up only by the president's own refusal to sign until he was assured corrective legislation would follow it.

Six Smoking Buildings Made Cold by Health Chief On orders of Acting Health Commissioner Koehler, the heating plants of six buildings were shut down for one hour yesterday as the department's daily "lesson" to violators of the smoke ordinance. Those hit by the shut down order were St. Regis hotel, 515 North Clark street; Henkel & Best company, lighting fixtures, 53-59 East Illinois street; Theodore A. Koch & Co., 212 West Superior street; Lion building, 627-629 South Wells street; Phillips building, West Adams and South Wells streets, and the Victoria hotel, South Clark and West Van Buren streets.

HEALTH CHIEF WARNS CITY OF CANNED SPINACH

General warning to housewives and restaurateurs to inspect all purchases of canned spinach with extraordinary care was issued by Acting Health Commissioner Gottfried Koehler yesterday afternoon. The warning followed the commissioner's receipt of a telegram from Dr. Clyde C. Siemens, health officer of Grand Rapids, saying that an analysis of several specimens of canned spinach taken from Grand Rapids brokers showed unmistakably that the deadly botulism bacillus was present in large quantities.

"The spinach was packed by a California concern," Dr. Koehler said. "Some of it was packed as long ago as the fall of 1919 and it is probable most of it has been consumed."

"The botulism bacillus makes the spinach offensive to the taste and gives it a strong smell which makes its detection easy even to lay observers. As a rule the cans in which such spinach is contained are swollen."

The spinach has been handled by many brokers throughout the middle west, according to Dr. Koehler. Many brokers tore off the original brands on the cans and replaced them with their own brands, making the work of tracing the spinach difficult.

KN $1,500,000 MORE DA I. O. U.'S FOR CITY; D/ ADD TO PAY ROLL

"To $4,000,000 Now Against
Next Tax Warrants.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The finance committee recommended yesterday the issuance by the city council today of $1,500,000 in "certificates of indebtedness." On Jan. 12 the council authorized $2,500,000 of this same sort of paper.

These certificates are to anticipate tax anticipation warrants which are regularly issued against tax collections. By this method money is being obtained to pay salaries and the judges and clerks of election in February.

By the ordinance passed in January and the one to be presented to the council today, the "mayor and controller are authorized and directed" to issue the certificates to the city treasurer as security for loans from trust and other unneeded funds until the city has the legal power to issue tax anticipation warrants.

That will be after the corporate appropriation is passed and the tax levy ordinance is adopted. Then tax anticipation warrants will be paid when the taxes are collected in the spring of 1922.

Three City Engineers for February.

By coincidence the committee also yesterday provided for three city engineers during February. The city engineer is head of the engineering bureau which aids the commissioner of public works on technical matters. John Erickson was city engineer when the present administration came into power. He was shoved aside and P. S. Combs was appointed. The latter fell down in the recent civil service examination and Alexander Murdoch took his place.

The committee decided a fortnight ago to retain Erickson to aid Combs and yesterday the commissioner asked that Combs be retained to aid Murdoch; and the committee concurred in the request.

The salary of the city engineer is $8,000 a year, and is paid from the water fund—not the corporate.

Advise Retaining Erickson.

When the finance committee discussed last month whether it was not advisable to conduct the engineering affairs with one city engineer, it was recommended by the department of public works that to retain Erickson as an adviser would be "money well and economically spent." He was retained at $8,000.

That was on Jan. 26 and before Murdoch passed at the head of the eligible list for city engineer.

So yesterday Commissioner Francis wrote the committee that the certification of Murdoch "makes it most advisable, from the standpoint of the interests of the city, to retain the services of Mr. P. S. Combs temporarily in an advisory capacity on account of his familiarity with the important engineering matters now pending."

The committee approved of Combs' retention at $700 for February, which is at the rate of $8,400 a year.

The committee also recommended the continued employment of six special lawyers to aid in getting the $25,000,000 of street improvements started. In revamping South Water street the federal government barge office must be obtained. The city will offer space in a pylon of the Michigan boulevard bridge.

Gun Victim's Widow Destitute.

Police Chief Fitzmorris submitted a letter to the committee "for such action as it may see fit," in which he told of the "very destitute circumstances of Mrs. John Yasko, 2533 Haines court. Her husband was killed at Halsted street and Roosevelt road Oct. 29 last while three patrolmen were chasing an auto loaded by Detective Sergeant Miller of the Maxwell station to Raymond Dwyer. The three occupants of the auto escaped.

Capt. Max Danner wrote the committee that he believes that Yasko was shot by the men in the auto. Yasko's wife has three sons, one 9 months, another 2 years, and another 4 years. The matter was referred to a subcommittee on claims.

Others on the program are Jenny Porter, Margaret Galanti, Virginia Kittle, and Eleanor Wendt.

TAXPAYERS STILL CROWD TRIBUNE INCOME BUREAU

In four weeks of the income tax filing period, thousands of taxpayers have come into THE TRIBUNE income tax bureau to have their income tax troubles straightened out by the experts. The rush continues and room 808, the new home of this bureau, is jammed all the time.

Charles M. Goller, chief of the income tax division, estimates that the income tax bureau in the federal building has handled approximately 40,000 persons. The last of the 1940A's (for incomes of less than $5,000) have been mailed out. It is well for the taxpayer to remember that there are only about five more weeks left for making returns, and the earlier one comes the easier it is for him to be taken care of.

Harry W. Mager, collector of internal revenue, advises every person who is subject to tax to be sure and make his returns on or before March 15, as there are heavy penalties provided for failure or willful refusal to file within the time prescribed for income tax returns for the calendar year 1920, and to pay the tax on time.

For failure to make a return on time on or before March 15, 1921, the penalty is a fine of not more than $1,000. An additional assessment of 25 per cent of the amount due may be applied unless a later return is filed, and it is satisfactorily shown that the delinquency is due to a reasonable cause.

Willful refusal to make a return and pay the tax on time is punishable by a fine of not more than $10,000 or one year's imprisonment, or both, together with the cost of prosecution.

If the tax or installment thereof remains unpaid after notice and demand by the collector of internal revenue, a penalty of 5 per cent is added. The instructions on the return serve as notice and demand in the case of first installment, as computed by the taxpayer.

SECOND LETTER THREATENS GIRL IN CRANE CASE

Louise Sturm of 811 West street, the little girl who identified Herbert C. Crane Jr., grandson of the founder of the Crane company, as the man who attacked her last week in Lincoln park, yesterday received a second threatening letter. The missive was postmarked in Joliet, and dated Feb. 2. It reads:

"If you don't be at the corner of Chestnut and Hackett by 7 o'clock it will be death for you. Sure death it means." A skull and cross bone design was the only signature.

CITY HALL TAKES OFF ITS COAT IN 13 WARD FIGHTS

Scraps 'Hands Off' Policy on Aldermen.

Though the Thompson-Lundin organization has announced a "hands off" policy toward the candidates at the spring nonpartisan aldermanic election, the influence of the organization machine is being brought to bear in almost every ward in the city.

In thirteen wards where the fights are warmest the Thompson precinct captains are getting up steam to see that the mayor's domination of the council is continued.

Two Cases of Defiance?

In two cases, however, direct orders of the mayor to ward committeemen are not being obeyed. In the Seventeenth ward the mayor promised his support to Aid. Stanley Adamkiewicz, a Democrat, who has voted with the Thompson aldermen regularly. But the organization is working hard for Thomas P. Devereux, 1257 West Ohio street. With five other contenders, Adamkiewicz is having hard sleighing.

In the Twenty-second ward, Titus Haffa, the mayor's committeeman, has refused to be delivered for Aid. Math. Hibbler, a Republican, whose votes have boosted the mayor's policies consistently, and is working hard for Arthur F. Albert.

"Double Cross" Rumored.

There is also evidence that the "double cross" is working in the Twenty-sixth ward where Aid. William F. Lipps, long one of the enemies of the mayor in the council, is trying to come back. Lipps and the mayor formed a peace pact whereby the former was to get the Thompson support, but William H. Wesbey, Thompson committeeman, declares he is unable to deliver the full organization strength to Lipps. Much of it is going to Charles G. Hendricks, it is said. The Democrats and the Brundage Republicans are behind John J. Hoellen and the fight is hot and triangular.

3,000 EVANSTON FOLK ASK VOTE ON SUNDAY MOVIES

Evanston's mayor, Harry P. Pearsons, and several aldermen last night signed a petition addressed to themselves requesting a referendum vote on the question of Sunday movies. There are 3,000 names on the petition, it is said. The petition was presented to City Clerk Hahn at a meeting of the Evanston Commercial association.

Mr. Hahn notified the originators they would have to obtain 6,000 names in all before it could be legally filed with the city. An effort will be made in the picture shows tonight and tomorrow night to obtain the signatures. The final date set for the filing was fixed at 11 o'clock tomorrow night.

TEXTILE MILLS OF NEW ENGLAND AGAIN HUMMING

Boston, Mass., Feb. 3.—From all over New England come reports of increased activity in the textile centers, with many mills reopening, thousands of workers going back to their employment, and mill owners and textile experts predicting a speedy return to normal in the woolen and cotton industry in this section of the country.

According to statements today of mill heads at Lawrence, one of the largest textile cities in New England, there is every indication of a coming boom. The cotton department of the Pacific Mills, which has been on a five day a week schedule for many weeks, will resume its normal schedule this week. Many more looms of the Arlington mills were put on a full time running schedule this week.

American Woolen Active. At the Everett mill, the agent today declared that the present full time schedule would prevail for some time. Heads of the American Woolen company today announced a gradual improvement in operations but said it might be weeks before normal conditions are reached.

In the last two weeks industrial conditions in general, but particularly in the textiles, have improved remarkably in Rhode Island, according to reports from Providence. Many textile mills whose looms have been idle for months have started operations either on full or on part time.

Wages Cut 22½ Per Cent.

The cotton mills of the state are all operating again after a period of inactivity, giving employment to more than 150,000. Most of the operatives were eager to return to work at a 22½ per cent reduction in wages. Strike sentiment among the employees was discouraged by labor leaders, who pointed out that a strike would aid the manufacturers.

Eight of the B. E. and R. Knight mills in the state are running full time. The Waukegan company mills, the Lorraine mills, and the Crown and Royal mills are also operating on regular schedule.

Beware of Tender Gums

Unhealthy soil kills the best of wheat. Unhealthy gums kill the best of teeth. To keep the teeth sound, keep the gums well. Watch for tender and bleeding gums. This is a symptom of Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

Pyorrhea menaces the body as well as the teeth. Not only do the gums recede and cause the teeth to decay, loosen and fall out, but the infecting Pyorrhea germs lower the body's vitality and cause many serious ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection. And use Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Why Thousands of Women Say: "The Best Home Journal yet"

We offer nothing for snobs, hypocrites or parasites. We do not specialize in sob stuff, sea stuff, new isms or ologies, exotic customs or manners, or the latest creeds and fads of the neurasthenics. We believe that the popular taste is infinitely better than the shut-in eclectics and common scolds dream of, and we intend to prove our conception by giving our vast family of readers the very best and most wholesome in literature and art and all-round helpful suggestions.

A husband who will do the family washing and call it a lark is a pretty good sort—particularly if he makes a good job of it. Millions of husbands know how to wash babies, though they rarely boast of it. Dishwashing is an all-family job in most homes where there is pull-together harmony. All of which puts us pretty solidly on a self-help basis as a nation.

The editorial program of The Journal is self-help one hundred per cent.

Editor of The Ladies' Home Journal

A Color Print of the Church Where Washington Worshiped

Jules Guerin has painted for the February HOME JOURNAL a full-page picture of the historic old Christ Church at Alexandria, Virginia, where George Washington worshiped and was a vestryman. It is reproduced in full color—a print that you'll want to cut out and frame. Later it will be sold for one dollar. You get it now as one of more than two score features in THE HOME JOURNAL for twenty cents.

Recipes from France and the Old South

Did you ever hear of Crème de Pommes? Can you make beaten biscuits, or a real chicken Brunswick stew? The February Journal has a French cook's own favorite recipes for cooking apples—and a Richmond woman's recipes for some of the good things that Virginians ate "befo' de wah."

Half a Hill

By Eleanor
Hallowell Abbott

Take three letters sent into the past; three unexpected answers, a week-end in the country, a garrulous stage driver and a violinist who played only in the dark, and you have the makings of this absorbing mystery.

Ladies' Home Journal stories are setting a high mark for interest and entertainment. And they are here in quantity as well as in quality. Besides the others mentioned on this page you'll find in the February issue

Don't Get Left

Thousands of women missed the January issue of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL because they didn't buy it on January 1. Don't wait this month until the newsdealer says: "Sorry—sold out!" The way to be sure of getting the beautiful big February issue is to

Going to Give a Party on Valentine's Day?

Everyone had a good time at the party Claire Wallis describes in the February HOME JOURNAL, and you'll make a hit with all your friends if you follow the suggestions in A Valentine Party in Five Reels. It's movie stuff—and heaps of fun.

The Target

By Holworthy Hall

"To my cousin Allan Bannatyne," the eccentric millionaire's will read, "that he may learn the thoughts and emotions of his fellow creatures by human experience, I bequeath a summer at the fashionable summer resort of Seaward." The young psychologist took the gift, though he didn't want it, and he became The Target in this unusually clever story by an unusually clever writer. Read it, in the February LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

Homes at $4700 to $9000

Building costs, we're told, will take a tumble this spring, and very likely it will be possible for you to put up that house you have been dreaming about. One thing is sure—the small house, planned for economy in construction and in housekeeping, is the thing for 1921. Ladies' Home Journal architecture has long been a model—there are whole towns of Ladies' Home Journal houses. In the February issue there are pictures and plans of that will offer valuable suggestions to the 1921 home builder. The costs are reasonable—from $4700 to $9000.

Crossed Wires

By Josephine
Daskam Bacon

The girl from the West wanted to know Society. The society woman, for a lark, gave her a house party—brought together entertaining folks, and furnished the girl with gowns from her own wardrobe.

But she didn't count on any such mix-up in her own love affairs as develops in this story—one of Mrs. Bacon's best.

Read it—in the February HOME JOURNAL.

Johnny Funny-Bunny and the Tadpole Baby

By Harrison Cady

"There's a cute baby down on Tinkham's Mill Pond," said Li'l Timmy Meadow Mouse, "that's been under water for nigh onto three days."

Both of Johnny Funny-Bunny's pink ears twitched with surprise.

Hegathered together his wife and children and they all rushed down to the pond to see the new baby with no hands or feet.

Harrison Cady tells the whole story for the kiddies in the February HOME JOURNAL, and, best of all, he has painted pictures in full color which can be cut out and stood up. Children of all ages love the Cady Cut-Outs.

Caruso, Farrar, Gallt and Howard Sing Tonight:

What goes on behind the scenes on a big night at the opera? The big singers—are they nervous? What do they do when they are off stage? Kathleen Howard, herself a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, gives away some of the secrets of her fellow artists.

A Ten-Cent Bowl May Be Made Beautiful

Luster china is expensive when you buy it in the stores. Yet you needn't be an artist to do this sort of painting—Dorothea Warren O'Hara, whose painted china and glass are models of the art, tells every step in luster painting.

Dresses Rich With Embroidery

Paris has furnished the ideas for a score of lovely embroidery touches that are shown in the February LADIES' HOME JOURNAL—such needlework as will make your summer clothes the envy of all your friends. There are full directions for every stitch of the needle.

Saving Fifty Million Dollars by Thrift

The fellow who wrote that old saw about taking care of the pennies must have come from Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. That's the home of Thrift. The farm people in that county piled up $50,000,000 last year. Basketering was one way they saved. If you need more money you may find a suggestion in this article.

The Seven Conundrums

By E. Phillips Oppenheim

"It will fall to your lot," she told her suitor, "to kill the only man I have ever really cared for." Strange indeed was the courtship of Naida Modeschka, of the Russian ballet—for it was a courtship of death itself—death directed by Mephistopheles. In The Seven Conundrums, of which this story is one, THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL has obtained the best work Mr. Oppenheim has ever done.

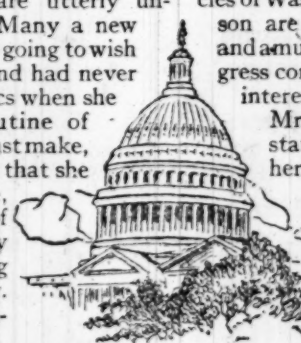

The Primary School of Politics for Women

The new woman voter's first ballot was cast for President, but now she is going to the bottom of this political business and learn it from the ground up. In an article in the February JOURNAL Elizabeth Jordan tells where the start should be made. Read Education for Citizenship.

The New Senator's Wife Made 650 Calls; Spent $50 on Visiting Cards, and More for Taxicabs Than for Food

The new Administration will bring to Washington new Cabinet officers, new Senators, new Representatives—hundreds of them, all told, to whom the customs of official society in the Capital City are utterly unknown. . . . Many a new senator's wife is going to wish that her husband had never gone into politics when she learns the routine of calls that she must make, the social ranks that she must observe, the difficulties of living properly and entertaining in the right way. Frances Parkinson Keyes, wife of Senator Keyes, of New Hampshire, has written from her own experience as a new senator's wife, and the pictures she gives of society in the Cabinet and Senatorial circles of Washington's official season are vividly entertaining and amusing. With a new Congress coming in soon you'll be interested in learning what Mrs. Senator from your state will find in store for her. Mrs. Keyes' article in the February LADIES' HOME JOURNAL is full of personalities and anecdotes. Read it!

Why Your Child Should Eat Spinach

"It's good for him," you say. Yes, but why? And why milk? Why butter? Why string beans? Why eggs? It's because they contain vitamins, the newly discovered mysterious force that controls growth and life. Read Making Friends With Vitamins, and regulate your children's diet so they'll be strong boys and girls.

Dainty Things for Baby

A pretty new sweater; some new handmade dresses from Belgium—easy to copy; a muff for the baby-carriage handle; a nursery screen with handy pockets; a bib that is different; a pillow cover. These things, pretty for the baby and a joy to the mother, are shown in a splendidly helpful page in the February HOME JOURNAL.

The Heart That Understands

By
Edith Barnard Delano

She was a frivolous flapper with a Mona Lisa smile. He was a poet. And her young heart fluttered and throbbed as he danced with her. Youngsters are funny, and Mrs. Delano makes Anna Isabella irresistibly amusing in this story in the February HOME JOURNAL.

Save it for an evening when the world looks blue—and see how it will brighten the corners for you.

The February Edition Is More Than Two Million Copies

The February issue of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL is a book of 172 pages, containing 44 separate and distinct features—short stories; installments of novels that later will sell for $1.75 to $2 in book form; inspiring special articles on a great variety of interesting subjects; and helpful departments of fashion news and patterns, housekeeping ideas, needlework, entertainment, gardening and architecture; besides poetry and colored pictures suitable for framing.

More than two million copies will be printed, but unless you buy today you may be disappointed, as thousands of women were disappointed last month. There are only two ways to buy THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL—by subscription at $2 a year (address The Curtis Publishing Co., Philadelphia, Pa.) or from a newsboy or news-stand at 20 cents a copy ($2.50 a year or 25 cents a copy in Canada). ALDERMEN O. K. PARKING SPACE ON LOWER LINK

Committee Accepts Plan of Chicago Motor Club.

Weeks of talk about providing downtown parking facilities for automobiles finally brought action yesterday when the city garage commission voted to accept the offer of the Chicago Motor club to install a checking system on the lower level of the boulevard link, where space for 400 cars is available.

If Mayor Thompson or the city council doesn't object it is probable the checking system, with adequate police protection for the parked cars, will be installed within two weeks.

"The system has been in force in Grant park for three years and during that period we have not lost a car, a tire, or a package from a car," said Charles M. Hayes of the motor club, who made the offer. "There will be no charge and all automobile owners, whether members of the club or not, will be welcome."

Pass Up $2,278,000 Garages.

The checkers will be on the job from 7:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m., and if the demand warrants it, a crew of checkers to guard the cars of theatergoers may be installed, Mr. Hayes said.

The commission deferred action on the proposal to construct garages in Grant park and beneath Market street, at a cost of $2,278,000, when Commissioner of Public Works Francis reported that the cost would be "prohibitive under present conditions."

Act on Car Contract Forfeit.

The question of declaring forfeit the 1927 traction ordinances will be called up for decision by Chairman Schwartz of the local transportation committee at today's session of the city council.

At the session of the committee yesterday Ald. Guernsey and Bowler indicated they favor delaying action until the newly appointed public utilities commission has been given a chance to re-lease street car fares.

The aldermen as a whole know nothing about the wisdom of forfeiting the franchise," said Ald. Guernsey. "They are acting at the bidding of the city administration, to which the forfeiture is merely part of a political scheme."

Traffic Committee Named.

Ald. Schwartz appointed a subcommittee consisting of Ald. John Toman, chairman, and Ald. John P. Garner and L. R. Anderson to study traffic conditions with a view to minimizing the wear and tear of heavy duty trucks on city pavements. They will probably take a trip to eastern cities.

PASTOR'S SLAYER ORDERED HELD.

Rose Thompson, colored, was ordered held to the grand jury without bond yesterday by a coroner's jury on a charge of murder. He admitted he slashed the throat of Rev. L. C. Burdick, 1230 South State street, to get $500, which he thought the colored pastor had hidden.

WEST VIRGINIA COAL PROFITS ARE ENORMOUS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—Estimated profits of twenty-one mining companies operating in the Pocahontas coal fields of West Virginia, some of which were as high as 200 per cent on investment during 1920, were placed today before the senate committee considering the Calder coal regulation bill.

The corporation names involved were not made public after an animated debate, during which J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the National Coal association, said this would violate an "understanding" reached with senate investigators who procured the accounts. Chairman Calder of the investigation committee which drafted the bill, denied that any such "understanding" had existed.

The lowest profit among the twenty-one corporations was at the rate of 25 per cent for 1920, although several had experienced losses in 1919.

Employees at Mooseheart Ask That Wages Be Cut

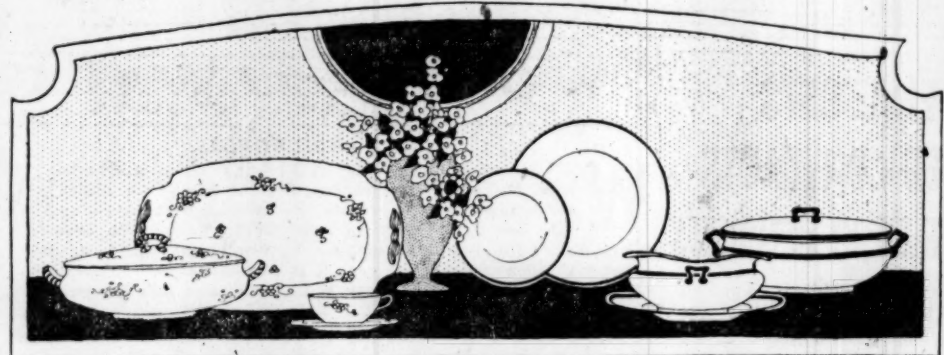

Mooseheart, Ill., Feb. 3.—Employees on the farm of the Loyal Order of Moose here today asked that their wages be reduced 10 per cent beginning Feb. 1. Thirty-five men are affected. The employees said their action was taken to assist in bringing a return to normal conditions.

ARGENTINE MAN SAYS GUN TOTING CHECKS HOLDUPS

In Buenos Aires, Argentine republic, there are fewer holdup men than there are in Chicago because in the southern city every one, the lawabiding as well as the lawless, carry pistols, according to Dr. Alberto P. Severgnini, special commissioner of the National and Santa Fe governments, who is in Chicago investigating its Municipal court system.

"That is just the opposite from what is generally believed to be the practicable system for Chicago," said Chief Justice Harry Olson, when he heard of the South American's opinion.

IPANY

SECTION TWO. GENERAL NEWS, SOCIETY, MARKETS, WANT ADS.

$20,200 BEAUTY CONTEST PHOTOS APPEAR SUNDAY

First Group of Pictures Soon to Be Seen.

The first photographs in the contest will be printed in the magazine section of next Sunday's TRIBUNE. And as you study them ask yourself: Is there not a girl in your city, your neighborhood, your own home who is entitled to compete for one of the sixty cash prizes that is now being offered in an effort to find the most beautiful girl in all the central west? Now is the time to act, so that there may be no regrets when the greatest beauty contest that has ever been conducted comes to a close on April 9. For a photograph will be accepted after January 1 of that date.

Simple Rules for Contest.

If the beautiful girl of your acquaintance has not already sent in her photograph, see that she does so. The rules governing the contest are simple: select a photograph of the prettiest girl you know—yourself, a friend, or a relative. Write her name, occupation, and home address on the reverse side of the photograph and mail it or bring it to a "Beauty Contest," This Chicago Tribune, 7 South Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill. Your action at this time may capture $10,000 when the judges make their decision.

Photographs will be published in the daily and Sunday issues of the Tribune until the close of the contest. With the photographs there will appear only the initials, occupation, street, and town of the contestant.

$10,000 for Some Pretty Girl.

Send in your pictures and watch for the publication. At least sixty girls in the central west are going to be winners. Some girl is going to win $10,000.

To enter this contest a girl must reside within the territory prescribed—states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin. Photographs are arriving from distant states but are not eligible to compete.

Twenty thousand two hundred dollars in cash is to be given away in all. The first prize in Chicago will be $1,000; the second prize, $250; the third prize, $100; and the fourth to tenth prizes, $50 each. There will be similar prizes for the girls outside of Chicago, and for the other four states.

Part of all the photographs must be sent in accordance with the rules. They are pouring in by the barrel, and there is no telling which mail bag contains the winners. The point which should concern every girl looking for the central west is whether or not she has yet taken advantage of the opportunity.

No Charge for Competing.

The contest is free. There is no charge of any kind. It is open to every girl—unmarried or widow—residing in the five states, provided she is a professional beauty such as an actress or artist's model.

A stenographer may win, a clerk, a telephone operator, a student, a home girl. Contestants must not forget to write their occupations and addresses on the reverse side of the photographs submitted.

The question is being asked as to what type of beauty stands the best chance. That is a matter for the judges to decide. The judges will be three celebrated artists from the Art Institute. It will be left to these judges to say who is the one most beautiful girl in all the central west.

Cities' Officials Take a Hand.

But every city in the central west must do its part. Realizing this, and believing that they have the winner in their midst, a number of mayors have issued proclamations suggesting that their cities be combed for contestants that the prize may be brought home. Among the mayors who yesterday issued proclamations in regard to the contest were Mayor Hutt of Muncie, Ind.; Mayor Barnes of Logansport, Ind.; and Mayor Kittleson of Madison, Wis.

Watch for the first group of photographs in the magazine section of next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

Pictures will be published every day thereafter until the close of the contest.

Let no beautiful girl in the central west delay!

Photographs will not be returned unless accompanied by a stamped and self-addressed envelope of proper size.

BEAD BAGS

Jacob Loeb's Rare Collection Is on Exhibition at Art Institute Now.

MISS KATHRYN SATTLER.

JACOB M. LOEB.

Three guesses at the hobby of Jacob M. Loeb, a former president of the board of education and a man who violently objects to having his photograph taken. You give it up? Well, you are wise. His hobby is ladies' bead bags, and the collection which he has made is now on exhibition at the Art Institute.

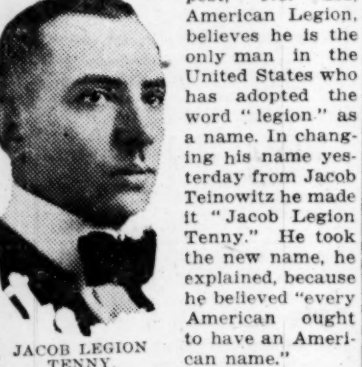

There are bags from Italy, Austria, Germany, New England, France, Holland, and Egypt, but the choicest bags in the group are those made by Mr. Loeb's aunt, a sweet old lady who lives in New York, and who, if her work may be taken for proof, has a remarkable eye for color and a wonderful skill in the manipulation of beads.

Some of the bags date from 1800. One bears the title "Bordeaux, 1815," and is gay and Frenchy with crossed flags and charming detail. A bag with a design of girls and boys skating is clever in workmanship; another, depicting a pensive village scene, is a feature in the exhibit.

The bags will remain on view for two weeks—through their sponsor, Mr. Loeb, refuses to put in an appearance with them.

Smallpox Hits Three of Family, Never Reported

Three cases of smallpox which have run its entire course without notice to the health department were discovered at 7251 South Sangamon street yesterday in the Auburn park district. The victims will not be taken to a hospital, as they have recovered. They are John, Mary, and Denit Deion, 12, 9, and 4 years old, respectively. Only one new case, that of Genevieve Vandewater, 7028 South Sangamon street, was reported yesterday.

WOMEN HELD UP; ONE BEATS OFF HER ASSAILANT

Girl Leaving Work Robbed of Rings and Money.

Four women were the victims of attacks by holdup men last night. One of them successfully beat off her assailant with an automobile crank shaft. Another was beaten and robbed of $100 and a $600 diamond ring.

Miss Anita McGinnis, 25 years old, an employe in the county clerk's office, was on her way to her home at 8336 Drexel avenue. She had stopped at a south end garage and obtained a repaired crank shaft. She was walking along Eighty-fourth street between Drexel and Cottage Grove avenues, when a Negro approached her. He demanded to know if she had any money. When Miss McGinnis said no, the man caught her by the neck and dragged her towards a vacant lot. Enroute Miss McGinnis began to ply her iron shaft. She struck him three times on the head, and kicked him. Then she began to scream. He then took to his heels and fled.

Gets Her Money and Rings.

Miss Amy Goldman, 23 years old, 615 West Twenty-sixth street, a bookkeeper employed by the South Side Bag company, West Fifty-third and Federal streets, was not so fortunate when a man—thought possibly the one who attacked Miss McGinnis—accosted her at Fifty-third and La Salle streets. The assailant seized her and carried her into a doorway, where he beat her on the head until she was nearly unconscious. The man then stripped her ring from her finger, took her pocketbook, and fled. Miss Goldman reported the robbery to the police.

Glee Over Robbery of Woman.

Two girls in a touring car laughed gaily while their young man escort robbed Mrs. Mark E. Burton, 2128 West Congress street, according to the information she gave the Englewood police.

The man jumped from the car at Sixtieth and La Salle streets when it drew alongside Mrs. Burton. He then struck her in the face and after wrenching her pocketbook containing $5.50 from her hand, jumped back in the car.

Two armed robbers entered the National Tea company's store, 3747 West Grand avenue, early last evening and after locking Mrs. Cecelia Weotall, the manager, in a store room, rifled the cash register of $180. Mrs. Weotall later broke the lock off the store room door with a hammer.

Hold Up a Druggist.

Three youths leaped from a touring car in the evening, dashed into the drug store of Joseph Beada, 3442 West Twenty-sixth street, and after forcing Beada to lie behind the counter, emptied the cash register of $150. A fur lined overcoat belonging to Beada, which was hanging behind the counter, was also taken.

R. R. Ford, 6611 Eberhardt avenue, was seized at St. Louis avenue and Marquette road by three men in a motor car, who robbed him of $30. He said they then threw him from their car at East Seventy-sixth street and the lake. Two Negro robbers obtained $70 from James Korotek, grocer at 5542 South State street, and locked him in a rear room. A customer later released him.

BALL SCANDAL GOES TO BAT IN COURT ON FEB. 9

The 1919 baseball scandal will break to the court next Wednesday. Decision to place the case on call in Judge William E. Dever's court and ask that the earliest possible date be set for the trial of the White Sox players and baseball gamblers indicted on charges of conspiracy to "throw" world series games was reached at a conference called yesterday by Chief Justice Charles A. McDonald of the Criminal court.

Further investigation of the alleged attempt to sell minutes of the baseball grand jury and the alleged libelous charges regarding Judge McDonald's personal interest in the original investigation will be made by the grand jury Monday. It is understood that several additional witnesses will be called in connection with a series of interviews written for a New York newspaper by L. G. Edwardson, a Chicago correspondent.

Attorney Henry A. Berger, one of the men quoted in the articles, returned home yesterday and immediately denied the statements credited to him. "I wish to deny emphatically that I ever made the statement credited to me in Edwardson's article," he declared in a letter written to Chief Justice McDonald.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

MUSES, ONE LIKE SEPTEMBER MORN, STAR AT TRIAL

Gilchrist Bares Woes as Story Writer.

With the courtroom transformed into an art gallery displaying six during photographs of Mrs. May Charlotte Gilchrist, artist's model, as "the mistress of the Garden of Eden," twelve blushing jurors yesterday listened to the second chapter of the romance of the Gilchrists.

They may be called upon today—these connoisseurs of art—to decide whether Lawrence C. Gilchrist, writer of short stories, or his wife is entitled to a divorce and the custody of their 4-year old daughter.

Gilchrist on the witness stand painted a word picture of his helpmeet, the cause for her to fight in her chair. Later she bit her lips when her husband's lawyer asked the jury to examine the six during pictures.

Writer Tells His Woes.

Gilchrist testified he obtained the pictures and a score of letters of which Mrs. Gilchrist admitted authorship from Carl Ruegge, a Milwaukee photographer. It is Ruegge for whom Gilchrist avers his wife posed as a lady.

Denying every allegation of cruelty made by his wife, the writer explained why he had not provided more generously for her. "I'm just an amateur writer trying to break into the magazine game," he said. "So far only two of my stories have been accepted. I haven't made much money. But everything I've received has gone to my wife. She's never been in when I couldn't make ends meet my mother sent money. And while I was in the army the government paid for the support of my wife and baby."

He explained his trip to New York, called desertion by his wife, was made in order to "get nearer the center of the literary market."

"She knew why I went east," he said. "The truth is she never loved me. She has desired a divorce for a long time. I'd give it to her, but I wish the custody of my child."

The jurors were shown the following missive written by Mrs. Gilchrist to Ruegge: "Dear Carl: I hope you are well. I have been too busy to see my lawyer, but I am going to talk to him Monday. I don't think I can stay here. It is too hard to work and pay for my room. It isn't getting me anywhere. "I got a letter from mother-in-law asking me to remain Mrs. Gilchrist. She said she would give me everything I want, but I'm not going to do it, because I don't like Mr. Gilchrist."

The Inquiring Reporter Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question. Did you ever have a photograph taken which really pleased you?

Where Asked? Hotel Sherman.

The Answers. Miss Kathryn Thacker, 542 Arlington place, private secretary—No, I never had one that really pleased me. But all in all, snapshots have pleased me more than studio pictures. The snapshot catches you unawares—when you are not posing. And in the studio you are too conscious and generally assume some silly expression.

A. L. Bering, Hotel Sherman, assistant manager—I am too modest to answer this question. I do know that a photograph must flatter one to please. I am rather hard to photograph. But I imagine from some of the photographs I have seen that the originals were highly flattered—therefore pleased.

Miss Essie Coleman, 832 Lakeside avenue, bookkeeper—I never had one that satisfied me. I have had a lot made—some of my friends liked several of them, but they never quite satisfied me. A photographer's chair has always affected me in the same way as a dentist's. I always feel that a painful expression comes over my face.

S. V. Wells, 7336 Coles avenue, buyer—Yes, I believe so. I have had some made which really flatter me, and have often thought that if I looked like them I would be well satisfied. I naturally felt that I had received my money's worth.

Miss Alma Harris, 3724 Sheffield avenue, secretary—No, when I was younger I had some taken that pleased me. But they were snapshots, and were more true to life. The retouching on modern photographs is greatly overdone. Why talk about a girl making up. Take a look at some of the photographer's work.

WHO LOST HAIR? OR MYSTERY OF MISSING SWITCH

False Tresses Found After Girls' Fight.

"The Mystery of the Missing Switch," or "The False Hair Problem," was given last night to Detective Sergeant Thomas Meagher of the Central station for solution. He has the hair. He is to determine today whether it belongs to Miss Doris Gray of 1908 North La Salle street, or Miss Pearl Miller of 4711 Indiana avenue.

Miss Gray is pretty, of athletic build, and packs a wicked wallop. She earns a livelihood by making fancy dives into a tank of water to amuse vaudeville audiences. Miss Miller, formerly an actress, is employed by a photographic concern in the State-Lake building.

Lands on Miss Miller's Jaw.

They met for the first time "professionally." Last night they met again at 145 pounds tableside in a restaurant at 115 North Clark street. Miss Gray, dressed in white, Miss Florence Rivard, dressed in black, and Miss Miller, dressed in blue, were seated at a table.

"You've been saying things about me," she screamed. "And they're all true!" retorted Miss Miller, rising and digging her nails into Miss Gray's neck. They clinched and clawed. The round galled in the street in front of Coban's Grand Opera house with a crowd trying to pick the winner. Miss Miller's green plume lay in the street, the hair of both was hanging down their backs when Traffic Policeman Jacob Gottschalk separated them.

Sergeant Pat Brady booked them for appearance in the South Clark street court today. Both put up $25 cash bond.

One of Them Loses Hair.

Then Eugene Stewart, employed in a shoe shining parlor at 111 North Clark street, phoned.

"One of them ladies lost a piece of false hair, boss. I got it."

Detective Sergeant Meagher was assigned to the case. As both are brunettes the case is puzzling.

"I've got all my hair with me," declared Miss Miller. "It belongs to her. She may have a wallop, but I've got some nasty nails."

Three Twilight Sleep Babies Born; One in Taxi

Two twilight sleep babies were ushered into the world just before midnight last night at the Mary Thompson hospital and another made its entrance in a taxicab outside the hospital doors. Mrs. Jane Duncan, 3801 South Lombard avenue, is the mother of the taxicab infant. When the taxi reached the hospital the patient was unable to leave the cab. Dr. Helen Kostka, house physician, came outside, administered twilight sleep, and in a few moments an eight pound girl was born.

Two neighbors, Mrs. Bonnie Leggett, 1938 Humboldt boulevard, and Mrs. Celia Rosen, 1934 Humboldt boulevard, are the mothers of the other two twilight sleep babies.

RAILWAY UNIONS TALK STRIKE IF ROADS WIN CASE

Men Grow Belligerent as Employers Close Plea.

A general railroad strike will take place within a week, if the United States Railway labor wage board accedes to the request of the railroads to abrogate the national shop craft agreements, according to statements made last night by two national labor leaders.

The railroads, in closing their case before the board yesterday, asked that these agreements be abrogated to "save them from bankruptcy."

William Schoenberg of Chicago, organizer for the national shop craft union, speaking before the federated trades council at Milwaukee, declared the railroad executives' program is a part of the open shop fight against union labor and predicted a nation wide strike if the wage agreements are cancelled.

Talks of Walkout.

S. J. Peeg, international secretary-treasurer of the Maintenance of Way Employe and Railway Shop Laborers' union, issued a statement in Detroit announcing that 370,000 members of the organization will stage a country-wide walkout without the formality of a strike vote, the moment wages are cut or the national wage agreement is broken.

"The men will not work for less money," he said, "irrespective of the wishes of union officials or what they might say. Thousands of them, embittered over wage conditions, are ready now to leave their work."

The international and national officers of the sixteen major brotherhoods of railway employes have been called to attend a protest meeting in Chicago preparatory to the presentation of labor's side in the dispute before the board next week.

After the railroads had closed their case, the wage board went into executive session and will convene in secret sessions until Monday, when labor's side of the controversy will be presented by B. M. Jewell. When Jewell concludes his statements, the railroads will present their rebuttal. An early decision is then expected from the board.

Seek Means to Ail Lines.

What was regarded as one of the most important developments of the day was the stand taken by a representative group of manufacturers and bankers who at a meeting behind closed doors discussed ways and means for getting the railroads back on their feet. Most of the big business firms represented at this meeting, it was reliably stated—and also a number of railroad executives.

A tentative plan for alleviation of the railroads' troubles was considered. Among its salient features were: Speeding up of congressional action so that the railroads can get the money due them since the days of government control.

Abrogation of the shop agreements to such an extent that the railroads, still at least have the same opportunity in a competitive labor market, which other extensive employers of labor have.

Readjustment of freight and passenger tariffs so that the roads can get a volume of business large enough to sustain them.

Readjustment of wages based on decreases in the cost of living, this to be gradual and come only as living costs fall.

Call Agreements Plumb Propaganda.

Railroad executives reiterated their charge that the national agreements were originally part and parcel of the Plumb plan for a competitive labor market, which other extensive employers of labor have.

W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines and chairman of the labor committee of the American Association of Railway Executives, issued a statement declaring that the thirty-six railroad failures to earn over operating expenses for the month of January. He added that twenty-eight other roads, while earning operating expenses, failed to earn taxes and fixtures for the same period.

In the first group, were listed the Great Northern and the New York, New Haven and Hartford. In the second were the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, the Boston and Maine, and the Baltimore and Ohio, and the Pennsylvania.

Drop Aurora Employees Today.

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 3.—Two hundred and fifty employes of the local shops of the Buick car plant here, who were notified five days ago that they would be laid off last night, were told at quitting time that the layoff order had been cancelled. James A. Carney, superintendent of the shops, said the men would be let out tonight.

Asks Burglar to Return Gifts from Soldier Son

Perhaps the burglar who broke into the home of Mrs. Louis Jennison at 1323 Albion avenue yesterday will return to her the only keepsake of the war which she treasures. Mrs. Jennison's son, James, was a member of Battery C, 149th artillery, "Kelly's Bucks," during the war. He gave his mother a service bracelet and a heart shaped locket bearing the insignia of the 149th. These were among the things taken. "I'm sure if he knew how much I treasured my locket and bracelet he would send them back to me."

Nippon Empress Seeks Christian Study Courses

The empress of Japan intimates that Sunday in her empire shall no longer be given over entirely to recreation and pleasure, and asks for copies of the World Sunday School association instruction books to show the method and organization of Christian Sunday school work in Japan. This is an acknowledgment of the impression made by the Christian spirit upon the pagan land of the Rising Sun, declared Dr. F. L. Brown, head of the World Sunday School association, before the Methodist board of Sunday schools' meeting in the Edgewater Beach hotel yesterday.

An optimistic note was expressed with regard to the present crime wave, which is only the temporary psychological result of the stresses of the war, in the opinion of Dr. Ernest C. Wareing of Cincinnati, editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

J. E. V. Thompson, superintendent of young people's work, advocates greater support and closer affiliation with the Boy Scouts of America by the church. He urged greater use of the churches as meeting places for the scouts and the Campfire Girls.

Growth in the foreign Sunday schools of the Methodist church was shown in the report of C. P. Hargrave, superintendent of the foreign department.

A concert will be given tonight at Orchestra hall for the benefit of the Chicago Osteopathic hospital.

The patronesses are the Mesdames William D. McElwaine, Leeds Mitchell, J. Ogden Armour, Eri B. Grannis, John Glass, Phelps B. Hoyt, T. Philip Swift, Rudolph Blome, Evan Evans, Henry L. GRAINS ADVANCE, THEN DROP, DUE TO PESSIMISM

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Highest prices for grains were made early, with a break later that carried prices down well toward previous levels. There was a distressful feeling at the close, with net losses of 3/4c to 1/2c on wheat, 1/2c to 3/4c on corn, 1/2c to 3/4c on oats, 1/2c to 3/4c on rye, and 1/2c on barley.

A great deal of pessimism is displayed by the trade in general, based largely on same conditions as for some time past. Whenever the markets show weakness, the feeling appears. A feature of the trading was the poor buying support after the early show of strength and good advance over the previous day's finish. It was largely the result of buying by local operators, who believed that prices were low enough, but when the tide turned they became sellers and assisted in causing the late decline.

Italy After Cash Wheat.

News was mixed. Export buying was in evidence, with 1,000,000 bu. wheat and two cargoes of flour sold abroad. Italy and several other countries began the market. Half of the wheat grain was new business. Portugal took some wheat in the United States and some in Argentina. Shipments from the latter country for the week were 1,041,000 bu. against 1,600,000 bu. for the week before. Demand for flour was reported from the east and St. Louis.

Selling of wheat came mainly from the east and at the last one large local operator, who bought early, broke seller and added to the decline. Illinois farmers were said to be selling more wheat and the southwestern farmers less. Primary receipts were under last year's, and export clearances were 456,000 bu.

Eastern Corn Demand Slow.

One trouble with the corn market, as most operators see it, is the slow cash demand from the east, although the seaboard took 65,000 bu. and domestic business was 12,000 bu. The country is selling in spots and cash discounts weakened to the lowest on the crop so far. The hedging business continues, with speculators taking the sales on the belief prices are relatively so low they cannot go much lower. Feeders are all losing money despite the low prices for corn.

Oats were down to nearly the previous low point on the crops, with commission houses leading the selling. Buying of July and selling of May at 10c difference furnished a good part of the trading. The close was at intermediate prices. Rye trading was light, with little new business. Cash prices were 10c12c over May. No export business was reported. Spot barley was slow and unchanged.

Tork and Ribs Higher. Provision prices had a small range and closed 2c lower for hams, 1c higher for ribs, and 10c higher for pork. Cash business was lighter. Traders regarded the western stock report as bullish, which induced some buying, especially as hogs were higher. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Practically all the wheat holdings show losses and the trade last night was largely against the market. A great deal of wheat was taken for export and futures bought against here on the break. Export sales of four were 120,000 bbls. covering the last few days for the continent. The short interest at the close was regarded as well extended, with speculative holdings well reduced.

"Buenos Aires grain markets are not controlled by a small group of buyers," says Brownhall's cable from that market. "Recent fluctuations are due largely to uncertainty regarding export taxation and general business conditions. The market is fairly well supplied with increasing wheat arrivals, but commerce through rains and insufficient storage now forcing sales. Local markets are operating normally in future and speculators appear to dominate."

Holland bought 100,000 bu. corn at seaboard yesterday. Country holders are not selling freely and prospects for another big run are uncertain. One of the largest cash handlers said it was easy to buy corn, which made him inclined to be against prospects for a good advance, although the short interest was said to have been increased.

Lard stocks at western packing points Feb. 1 were 48,025,000 lbs., an increase of 14,357,507 lbs. last month, compared with 27,684,352 lbs. last year. Short ribs increased 5,389,524 lbs., against 4,965,351 lbs. last year, showing an increased make this season. Dry salted meats the gain was only 31,005,000 lbs., while last year it was 44,200,000 lbs. Stocks of all meats of 230,833,657 lbs. were 55,617,735 lbs. larger than Jan. 1, while the gain last year was 50,050,000 lbs.

NEW YORK LAYS CALL RATE JUMP TO WEST, SOUTH

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

The New York Times.
New York, Feb. 3.—(Special.)—The 9 per cent call money rate prevailed again today, leaving no room for doubt that certain large districts of the west and south are in a condition which for the time is deadlocking the free liquidation of credit engagements, trying up the banks of those sections in loans that are neither self-off at maturity nor foreclosed and therefore throwing back those banks on their stronger
New York correspondents.
